MANY FOOLS ARE MAKING MONEY NOW SAYS WILL

(Special to The News)
BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., June 12.—The best news in the paper yesterday was no joke.

The Rockefeller Foundation, for the health and betterment of people of all parts of the world, spent $22,000,000 last year and $144,000,000 since its organization in 1913.

And it's been worth $1,000,000 as an inspiration to other tremendous rich men to do fine things.

The whole viewpoint of the people in regard to our rich men has been changed in the last few years.

Now we judge a man's greatness on how he has spent his money.

I guess there has never been a time in our history when as many fools are making money as now.

Just to be rich and nothing else is practically a disgrace nowadays.

Yours,
WILL.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Pa Newc is glad to act as a representative of the New Castle community today in extending a welcome to the host of visitors coming as members of the Allegheny Regional Advisory Board.

It will look like old times at Cascade Park on Saturday. Porters of the eastern Ohio district are coming in a delegation which is reported to be at least 15,000 strong.

With all of the controversy about the results of prohibition, the number of serious cases in the local courts is dropping steadily. The present term of court has very few cases of importance.

New Castle councilmen haven't as yet made up their minds to emulate the French city council that has passed an ordinance banning tooting (Continued On Page Two)

Senate Rejection Of Farm Measure Due To Debuture

President Hoover's Farm Relief Program Faces Troublesome Future

Predict House Will Defeat Debuture Plan And Send Bill Back To Senate

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, June 12.—President Hoover's farm relief program faced a somewhat troubled future today as a result of the senate's rejection of the farm bill conference report because the export debuture plan had been abandoned.

It was the third distinct rebuff which the senate has handed the White House this special session of congress.

The expectation today was, however, that the house will vote on the debuture plan tomorrow, defeat it, and send the bill back to the senate where it will be finally enacted. Such at any rate was the hope of administration leaders today after a night of conferences.

Save Embarrassment
Thus far house leaders have declined to let the house vote directly on the debuture. They took the arbitrary and, to the senate, the naughty position that the debuture (Continued On Page Two)

Build Dam; To Hatch Trout At Game Farm

Work has been started on the construction of a dam across the stream which flows through the Jordan state game farm near Harlansburg, which will be used next spring to raise trout. Deputy Game Commissioner Frank Johnston announced this morning.

This will increase the activities at the farm greatly and will also increase its importance as a game propagating center. It will no doubt mean that streams in the Lawrence county district will receive more game fish. Eleven hundred young pheasants have been recently hatched out at the farm in addition to those already hatched, while 1,500 eggs are still in setting. A great many eggs have been shipped to other points for hatching purposes.

The state game farm has already gained wide publicity in many districts outside New Castle and hundreds of visitors come to the place each week to see the young game and learn about the activities of the place.

The land is now well fenced in to protect the game from vermin and prevent escape into the surrounding territory.

London Excited Over Reported Engagement Of Prince Of Wales

Believe Prince Of Wales Will Take Princess Ingrid Of Sweden As Wife

Former Estelle Manville, Would Be Close To British Throne Through Marriage
By HARRY R. FLORY
International News Service Staff Correspondent
LONDON, June 12.—While London continued to buzz today with reports that the engagement of the Prince of Wales to Princess Ingrid of Sweden, may be announced shortly, no definite confirmation of the rumor could be obtained from authoritative sources.

The customary categorical denial was issued by Sir Godfrey Thomas, the prince's private secretary, but in spite of this, it was regarded as significant that virtually all the London newspaper, while making no direct mention of the reported match, devoted considerable space today to descriptions of the Swedish royal princess, extolling her virtues and her beauty.

George E. Bailey Is Found Dead In Garage By His Wife; Had Used Bullet

PITTSBURGH, June 12.—The body of Justice of the Peace George E. Bailey apparently a suicide, was found today by his wife in his car, in the garage of his home in the Ingram district here.

A note, lying on the table in his home, led his wife to the garage. "I'm out in the garage, Harriet. You'll know all in the morning. I can't stand it," the note read.

A revolver clutched in Justice Bailey's hand and a seared bullet wound in his head mutely attested his death.

Will Ask Vote On Bond Issue Next November

Council Decides To Present Improvement Program Up To People

FIVE YEAR PROGRAM WILL BE PROJECTED

Total Of Bond Issues Proposed In 5 Years To Be Million

Council has instructed Solicitor Robert White to prepare legislation whereby the voters will have an opportunity next November to say whether or not they want councilmen to spend approximately $1,000,000 during a five year period on improvements.

This is the outcome of Tuesday's meeting of solons when the city's situation was discussed pro and con. All sections and all forms of improvements said to be necessary came in for consideration. The session was harmonious and councilmen decided to put the issue squarely before the people in November.

Storm sewers, sanitary sewers and street improvements were discussed. It was estimated that $450,000 will be required for sanitary sewers, $300,000 for improvement of streets and at least $250,000 for storm sewers. The latter amount has not been definitely estimated by the city engineer but will be soon.

To Prepare Estimates.
The city engineer was ordered to prepare plans and estimates for storm sewers in the following sections: Euclid avenue between North Mercer street and Shenango river. North Mercer street between Hillcrest and Euclid avenues.

Canyon street for the section: erroneously called Snake River. Along State into Grant street thence to Shenango river.

North street between North Mill street and Shenango river. Neal to South Mill street thence to Taylor street and Neshannock river.

In reference to the discussions that have featured the Sheridan-Euclid avenues situation, it was believed that a storm sewer construction project in Euclid avenue would be $50,000, cheaper than it would be to put the sewer in Sheridan avenue.

The estimated cost of the foregoing proposed storm sewers has not yet been compiled by Municipal Engineer Miller. However, the total amount will be fixed before the legislation is prepared so that it can be written therein as state regulations provide definite projects and costs must be designated.

Council accepted the Fuller & McClintock estimates and plans concerning the sanitary sewer situation (Continued On Page Two)

Make Plans For Annual Battery B Day At Mt. Jackson—Casky Is Chairman

(International News Service)
ELIZABETH, N. J., June 12.—The fate of Henry Colin Campbell, confessed torch slayer, was to be placed in the hands of the jury in supreme court here today.

The state, which has sought to prove that the once prosperous business man deliberately murdered his bigamous wife, Mrs. Mildred Mowry, and set fire to her body on Feb. 23, last to obtain her money, hopes to send him to the electric chair. While Campbell previously confessed to the crime, the tenor of his defense in the trial was that drugged as he was by morphine, there had been no willfulness, deliberation or premeditation. His mind was a complete blank concerning the murder, he declared.

This defense is said to mean that Campbell holds no hope for acquittal, but will be content with any verdict other than that of guilty of first degree murder.

The defendant's legal wife, Mrs. Rosalie Campbell, is standing by him. She testified yesterday that they last (Continued On Page Five)

The inquest will get underway at 3:30 p. m. tomorrow. The coroner has been asked to definitely determine how the young couple came to their death and at whose hands. The farm relief bill's going slow, but pretty soon we'll likely know, what congress deems the proper plan, to help the hard worked farmer man. The farmer feeds the world today, with mangled spuds and shredded hay, he grinds his teeth and battles in to bear the burdens placed on him. His hours have always been so long, he's never time to sing a song, and little chance there seems to be, that he can cut them down, bigger. He's happy that this farm relief, proposed by Uncle Sam's big chief, will help to speed that happy day, when he can work on better pay. The city man's stock in his own, it's higher pay than he can draw, and he gets tired of it, too, embraced in death's cold arms and he only sees an equal chance, a carnal power to buy his pants, and raise the hogs that make the ham, denuded by the city man. We hope the farm relief won't be a lot of foolish buncombe, and that's about all we can say, it's eighty in the shade today.

Eastern Star To Banquet Tonight

Big Banquet And Ball In Pittsburgh Tonight For Eastern Star Delegates

MASONIC ORDER AS INVITED GUESTS

Pittsburgh, June 12.—The annual banquet and ball with members of the Masonic order as guests, tonight will be the climax of business sessions of the thirty-fifth annual state convention of order of the Eastern Star here.

Committee reports were to occupy today.

Delegates will take place tomorrow, and installations tomorrow night.

More than 1,500 delegates registered yesterday, the largest first day attendance in history of the convention.

In reporting on the purchase of the $50,000 bond of the order in Philadelphia, Mrs. Jane M. Roberts, visiting president, told the delegates that 40 percent response had been received from the 451 chapters in the state for contributions to the fund.

Membership gain.

Mrs. Adeline C. Barnes, grand secretary, reported total membership in Pennsylvania as $4,000 a gain of 3,801 members. The 25 New Chapters constituted during the year brought in 1,200 new members, Mrs. Barnes said.

Constitution of two new Pittsburgh divisions of order of the Rainbow, junior group, featured the session last night at Syria Mosque.

Members will meet this afternoon in caucus to discuss candidates for officers to be filled at the election tomorrow afternoon. Mrs. Jesse Berlin, of Allentown, and Thomas Meany, of Philadelphia, are opposed for associate Grand Master and Associate Grand Patron, other posts are in doubt, delegates said today.

General headquarters today have been moved to the Mosque, to permit delegates to go on the convention floor immediately after filing credentials.

of saxophones after 10 o'clock. Some citizens would be glad for such action, though, Pa Newc is told.

New Castle hospital nurses' graduation exercises will take place tonight at the Ben Franklin junior high auditorium. Nurses who will receive diplomas tonight are to be commended for their choice of this line of service to humanity as their life work.

Pa Newc is willing to accord the laurels to Miss Elizabeth Macklin of Bessemer, who has completed a perfect attendance record for her entire public school life—12 years without an absence or tardy mark. Thousands of school pupils in the country can appreciate what a record of this kind means, as very few make a perfect record for any one school year, let alone the entire 12 years in succession.

New Castle continues to make its appeal as a convention city. The state G. A. R. reunion next year probably the last that will be arranged in the history of the Civil War vets, will likely be in New Castle. Pa Newc also notes that several hundred soldier boys of the 368th ammunition train in the World War are planning to gather here in November in their annual reunion.

A little speed on the part of the city in fixing up the tennis courts on Boyles field would be appreciated by the youngsters of the city. The idea of making more courts on the field is fine, but the lads are losing a lot of opportunity to play these fine June days.

Seems to Pa Newc that it is illegal to cut across gas station or other property driveways when a stop light is halting you. There are several such places where one can thwart the light in the city and a lot of motorists do this very thing.

From the state comes the information that bunnyming is not illegal, so Westminster can still operate according to schedule and seventh ward lads can still get up to school.

Today is the day for the A. R. A. B. and that doesn't mean "Arab," but Allegheny Regional Advisory Board. This morning the executive committee met out at the field club and this afternoon, if weather permits, there will be golf enough for everyone.

Camp Phillips will be the mecca for quite a few persons this evening. A couple of hundred Scouts are having a camping jamboree and contest and the affair will be worth watching.

Workmen are still at it on the state highways. Ditches by the roadsides are being made much deeper this year, so it seems, and drainage will without a doubt be improved.

Just nine more days and summer will be in our midst in earnest, which brings to mind the fact that the season for vacations is at hand.

Despite the fact that the days have been gradually getting warmer and warmer, the nights have been just right for sleeping, neither too warm nor too cool.

A fine crop of hay is being cut from the bank above Highland avenue on the Cathedral grounds. The hillside in one spot is too steep for fine grass, and coarse grass has been allowed to grow there. It was almost two feet in height before it was cut.

Pa Newc observed a Youngstown motorist making a left-hand turn at the corner of Mill and Washington street the other night. There is no way of telling that left-hand turns are prohibited there at night, the small sign hanging down from the traffic light being too small to be seen at night.

Yesterday's temperature stood at 86, reminding one that it is getting close to the record mark hung up on Memorial Day, when the mercury got up to 92. There was a nice breeze blowing yesterday, however, which made the heat less noticeable.

Showers are the prospect for today, and farmers and gardeners are eagerly awaiting them. Despite all the rain of May, the ground is pretty dry now and a good soaking rain is badly needed.

There were seven railroad crossing fatalities each day in 1923, according to facts just compiled by the American Railway association. During that same period 67 persons were killed either on the highways or on the streets in cities. The increase in crossing fatalities in 20 years has been 180 per cent while that of streets, the streets and highways, has made a gain of 3,804 per cent.

Half a dozen small boys today traveled north on South Mill street. They were headed for a swimming hole. Around the neck of each little chap was a towel. No doubt they carried a cake of soap in their pockets.

A safety zone has been established in South Mill street where the Long avenue car has a terminal. It is marked off and autoists in passing should use precaution not to strike persons in the zone.

Work has progressed to such a stage on the Wilmington road widening that traffic will be shut off in a day or so. On the end nearest the city the street is all torn up now and traffic is dangerous.

The old fire bell still hangs in the tower of the former fire station on East street. It's a problem to know what to do with the bell, which was silenced months ago when the new station on South Jefferson street was placed in use.

City workmen are painting the traffic zone standards on the downtown streets.

three bride for the heir to the British throne.

But it is possible to read between the lines, and the mass of "news" published recently about the doings of Princess Ingrid may well be regarded as an augury that something is in the wind.

Related to American.

Princess Ingrid, young, comely and entirely eligible as a future queen of England, is the daughter of the crown prince of Sweden. She is a relative, by marriage, of the former Estelle Manville, American society heiress, who not long ago became the wife of Count Folke Bernadotte, a nephew of the king of Sweden.

An alliance between the Prince of Wales and Princess Ingrid thus would place an American girl closer to the British throne than ever before in history.

To Attend Ball.

Prevalent gossip over the tea-tables of Mayfair states that an announcement regarding the reported match may be forthcoming this Friday night at a ball to be given in honor of the Swedish princess, who is visiting London with her mother.

Other reports state that the announcement may be held up until the later part of this month, when the Prince of Wales reaches his 35th birthday. Those who like to pretend that they know all about what the royal family is doing adhere to the latter date, saying that the prince has on occasions held personal friends that his 35th birthday would be the end of his 35th bachelorhood.

You'll observe that few newspapermen denounce an inheritance tax that exempts the first ten thousand.

JAWORSKI GANG LEADER IS TAKEN; PLAN FOR TRIAL

Paul Jaworski, gang leader, who yesterday confessed, according to police, to implication in several murders and payroll holdups, was to be tried by a jury today for further details of the gang activities. Ferkak was captured after an international search.

Only One at Liberty

Only one of the bandit gang of Jaworski, who was executed for killing a payroll guard in holdup of a coal company, now is at liberty. The man is known as "Polish John," implicated in Ferkak's alleged confession as his bodyguard and chauffeur for the gang.

Ferkak's confession came as a surprise yesterday. He was taken at Central City, Pa., June 6 under the name of Frank Khuis, following the $4,500 holdup of the Central City bank, in which Ferkak and another bandit were shot.

County Detectives John Geisler, Michael Ford and Albert Sheddock last yesterday identified the Central City fugitive as Ferkak, for whom a search has been carried on in the United States and Canada.

Ferkak and "Polish John" it was learned, maintained headquarters during the four years of the gang operations, at the farm home of Mrs. Joe Weckowski, of Washington county.

Mrs. Weckowski and members of her family identified their boarder as Ferkak.

Admits Crimes

Ferkak admitted, according to the State police, participation in a number of crimes, including the dynamiting of the armored payroll car of the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal company, in which $104,000 was taken.

He also was involved in payroll holdups at Beadling, Pa., and Mollenauer, Pa., in 1923 and 1925. Ross Dennis, guard, was killed in the Beadling holdup and Isiah Gump, guard, was killed in the Mollenauer holdup.

It was in connection with these killings that Jaworski paid with his life, in the electric chair.

The headquarters of the Jaworski gang was originally in Hamtramck, suburb of Detroit, from which point the bandits made sorties into Pennsylvania for coal company payrolls.

Others Seize Time

Joe Weckowski, the Washington county farmer who gave sanctuary to the members of the gang during its heyday, now is serving a five year sentence in the workhouse for his connection with the Jaworski operations.

Sam Pallas, brother of the bandit leader Jaworski, now is serving an eight year sentence in penitentiary for his part in the sensational escape of Paul from county jail in August, 1927. Paul had been captured following the Coverdale dynamiting and was being held to trial. After his escape Paul was captured in Cleveland.

District Attorney Samuel H. Gardner has detailed first Assistant Andrew T. Park to prepare an indictment against Ferkak in connection with the Dennis and Gump murders.

SENATE REJECTION OF FARM MEASURE DUE TO DEBENTURE

was a revenue-raising provision and thus could not originate in the senate under the constitution. The real reason, however, why house leaders have refused to let the house vote on it is because they hoped to save members the political embarrassment of being recorded for or against it.

Many mid-western Republicans favor farm organizations. At the same time the members don't want to be recorded in opposition to the President. Hence the easier plan was to avoid a vote on it.

Once the house directly rejects the debenture, the senate is expected to do likewise. Several votes are already ready to shift in the senate, it was said today.

May Recall Members

A hundred or more absent house members, who have gone home in the last two weeks in anticipation of the summer recess may be recalled. The senate's action was a distinct jar to administration leaders. Their polls up until noon yesterday showed a victory for Mr. Hoover. To their surprise, there were a number of last minute switches, all against the President, and an hour before the vote it was apparent the conference report would be rejected. Even then, the administration did not give up hope, since there had been so many other changes in the preceding 24 hours.

The rebuff to the President could not be hidden in the debate just preceding the vote Senator Allen (R.) of Kansas, made an impassioned plea to the senate to "stand by the President." He asserted the President was still opposed to the debenture and that congress should leave farm relief up to the White House.

This appeal brought sharp retorts from Senators Brookhart (R.) of Iowa, a strong Hoover supporter in the last campaign, and Senator Caraway (D.) of Arkansas.

here. Fuller & McClintock estimated that $450,000 would be needed for immediate relief.

For Street Improvements

The solons also decided that the voters would be asked to approve a sum of $300,000 for street improvements and $50,000 expenditures for parks and playgrounds. These amounts added to a probable $250,000 or $300,000 for storm sewers would approximate a million dollars that will have to be raised through the sale of bonds if the citizens want the improvements over a five-year period.

Should the voters cast favorable ballots the city will next ask approval of the state to issue the bonds. Should the vote be favorable, it is not likely that the state would interpose any objections in view of the people's will. The ordinances authorizing the question to be put before the people will be introduced soon.

During the past few years there has been an urgent call by many for improvements. Council time and again has flatly stated their case, which can be put in a few words, thus: "We have not sufficient money. Improvements by piecemeal have been made, their state, but they have been but as a drop in the bucket."

Recently Councilman Burns said that in view of the demand that the city should do something that solons should act. Councilman Tyler had the same opinion. Their colleagues, however, decided that it is not likely that extraordinary improvements it is a question they alone should decide as councilmen are but voters' representatives.

After the legislation is prepared to put the question of a probable million dollar bond issue before the people it will be of deepest import that all citizens give the subject serious thought. Council does not wish to escape any responsibility but will regard the answer election day as a decision from the voters.

STAR LORE

When the Sun Burns.

By Arthur Day, Carpenter.

June 21 marks the date of the Summer Solstice, the longest day of the northern year when the sun sheds its rays vertically upon the Tropics of Cancer 23½ degrees north of the equator. The Tropics gets its name from the constellation Cancer in the Zodiac where the sun formerly appeared at the Solstice. But owing to the precession of the equinoxes the Sign Cancer has slipped backward (westward) into the constellation Gemini, from this point the sun turns southward and northern days will gradually shorten. The Tropics of Cancer crosses the American continent north of the Island of Cuba and bisects Mexico.

WELCOME TO NEW CASTLE, REGIONAL BOARD MEMBERS

NEW CASTLE is again privileged to act as host to an important gathering of men who are here for the purpose of conferring upon business conditions in this great industrial area. The New Castle News joins with its readers and the Chamber of Commerce in extending a most cordial welcome to the city, to the industrial leaders here as members of the Allegheny Regional Advisory Board, and those who will be here tomorrow for the conference. It is indeed a pleasure to have such a distinguished array of guests in New Castle, but we are confident that in every way their stay here will be most pleasant and beneficial. It is with gratification that the facilities of this city are extended to the visitors, for New Castle, with rather pardonable pride, feels it can present ideal settings for such gatherings.

WELCOME Allegheny Regional Advisory Board Members!

DANGER IN SUMMER SWIMMING

NEW CASTLE Y. M. C. A., in its campaign to teach boys to swim, now in progress, is doing a really worth while work. Every boy should know how to swim and to handle himself in the water, and how to aid others in possible. One never knows when he is liable to be called upon to use this knowledge. Likewise the Flying Squadron, which is being formed again this summer, is to be commended for the spirit shown to render aid in cases of need. Parents of children have an especial responsibility, as the season opens. If they can impress their children with the need of using care and common sense in the water, and can make the children see how serious the consequences of boyish foolishness at the bathing beach or swimming hole, can be, they will be doing much to reduce the total of summer bathing fatalities. Every bathing beach frequented by large numbers of bathers should be patrolled, and should be in charge of a capable life guard. But above all, safety in swimming this summer rests with the individual. Safety first rules should be obeyed at all times. Lawrence county has a number of swimming fatalities already this summer, and it should be the aim of all to make them the last. Co-operation and common sense will aid in reaching the goal.

ANOTHER EDISON

GOVERNORS of many states are co-operating with Thomas A. Edison to help him find his successor. The great inventor, after half a century of work in which he revolutionized modern life, is seeking a youth of unusual capabilities who may perhaps be able to continue the work he has so well started. To the high school boy who gives the best answers to one of his questionnaires, Edison offers a free college scholarship. One boy from each state, the one considered the possessor of the highest ability in scientific subjects, will be given a free trip in August to Mr. Edison's Orange, N. J., laboratories, where the questionnaire will be presented to him. Each of these boys will be entertained and made a gift of an Edison radio-phonograph. We doubt that another Edison will be found. This miracle worker is unique. Yet we have no doubt much rare talent will be discovered in the search, and several promising youths will be given an impetus that may result in new benefits to humanity. Therefore this enterprise is more than commendable, it is a particularly lovely gesture of a man much beloved, revered and admired—"another" of whom, however, we fear cannot be found so easily.

BE CONSTRUCTIVE

FEATHERED creatures sing cheerily among the leaves and branches of their natural habitat, the trees. The pranking monkey chatters gleefully as he scampers and swings from limb to limb in his home in the tree tops. The meadow lark is never heard to scold or complain as it soars over its fields of golden grain. Only man finds fault with his place of habitation. It is for this that he was endowed with the powers of discernment, comparison and comprehension? Either that, or he is abusing these gifts. Destructive criticism may be destructive in the sense that it demolishes the outward to make room for a new and better order of things, but too often it proves only destructive. In community building there must be a happy combination of satisfaction and dissatisfaction if progress is to be made. Communities, like individuals, thrive on praise. It inspires them to greater things. A little biting criticism also helps. To tell them they are either perfect or worthless is to invite stagnation. "Boosters" are ridiculed and "knockers" are hated. And yet it is possible to combine the two and reduce the thing to a fine art. If you must publish your community's flaws and shortcomings, do it by telling the world how it is going to overcome them.

It is understood that in the modernized version Mary's lamb will follow her to school in the ramble seat.

Ice cream is healthy, but it is our recollection that apple butter made a better mastic on the average small boy.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 7:29. Sun rises tomorrow 4:30. About the best burglar insurance we know of is to have some young lady, either a member of the family or in some other capacity, around the house who has a fellow every night. And one who keeps them late. The Atchison Globe severely criticizes the police in a neighboring town calling it "rotten administration" because the chief recovered a stolen saxophone. Times surely have changed. On Sunday we saw a great many huge trucks going through New Castle loaded with machinery and other things. One truck had a cow standing in it eating hay. We also saw a huge truck drawing a trailer bigger than a load of hay. And those things do not go along quietly either. And what are you going to do about it? We are living differently and the old stuff don't go any more.

Friend of Mine

Oh, friend of mine
The hill is steep
The road is long and deep
Many a jag will cross your path
Many a knock to raise your wrath
But grin your teeth and smile with cheer
And you're bound to win my friend,
Don't fear.

On friend of mine

Keep straight ahead
And by His Holy light, be led;
Never lose your faith or love
For Him who guards you from above
But know your jils He will attend
And you're bound to win in time my friend.

On friend of mine

Have love for all;
Serve and help each pleading call;
And doing this will aid mankind;
More than wealth or fame you'll find;
So with these three—faith, love and cheer—
Why you've won, you've won on friend most dear.

A friend of ours

Was over from Youngtown yesterday and she said that many years ago her father came to New Castle and bought a piano in the Greer music store. It is still in their family and its tone is the sweetest they know of. No money would take it after all these years. This lady also said the first pony she ever had was bought from a Mr. Hort in New Castle. Things have changed a lot in fifty years every way.

Taxicab drivers seem to think they have more rights on the streets than any other kind of drivers, which they have not. British Labor Held Unlikely To Support Radical Policies

Results Of Election, As Observed On This Side Of Water, Show Peace Tendencies And Failure Of Liberal Party

American interest in the British elections centers largely around the prospect of greater cooperation in efforts toward arms reduction and the tendency toward the establishment of the two-party system which is the traditional method of the United States with the possibility of a new strain of Labor party inheriting the place heretofore occupied by the Liberals.

"Ramsay MacDonald is not a radical in the common meaning of the term," says the PROVIDENCE JOURNAL. "and it is probable he will be inclined to introduce radical schemes, the huge bulk of Conservatives and a large percentage of the Liberals constitute almost a guarantee that he could not obtain the approval of the new House of Commons." The DES MOINES REGISTER explains as to the use of the term "socialist" in the British Labor movement, that "what is meant is that England is putting social welfare first, and that 'social welfare' means taking the people as a whole and not doing everything for an aristocracy."

It is assumed by the LOUISVILLE COURIER-JOURNAL that "the only reason to expect radical changes" in the NEW ORLEANS TIMES-PICAYUNE believes that Mr. MacDonald is in for a troubled time of it—and the brilliant Lloyd George may prove not the least of his troubles." The CHARLESTON EVENING POST also points out that "under these circumstances, Labor will not have a full opportunity to try out its program."

"The Labor party are not expected" as viewed by the NEW YORK SUN to play the role of dog in the manger. Undoubtedly they will support all measures in the name of the country, but they will stop short of endorsing the entire Labor program. If compromise pleases nobody, the Labor government is likely to have a short tenure of office.

"Perhaps the feature of Labor's triumph most gratifying to the United States is the prospect of a naval limitations understanding with Britain. This Mr. MacDonald has definitely pledged," says the WASHINGTON EVENING STAR, and that "pastor" feels that Americans can also derive satisfaction from the fact that "Communism was definitely repelled."

The ASHEVILLE TIMES explains that the Labor party's election may be regarded as a really liberal policy in Great Britain, this election is, among other things, a victory for the cause of international disarmament." The BULFATH HERALD avers that the Labor party is now sincerely concerned in peace than any of the other parties, and says that this is the "real statement" of the winning party.

"In this campaign," states the SANTA BARBARA DAILY NEWS, "many representatives of old British families have been ancient warriors in the ranks of the Labor party, and among the candidates on that ticket are men of wealth and distinction."

The OKLAHOMA CITY TIMES says in the north edition that "the majority of the people of the United Kingdom are ready for a change."

"The Baldwin ministry has made grave mistakes," in the judgment of the CHICAGO DAILY NEWS, "especially in connection with armament reduction, the question of the freedom of the seas and the attempted military-naval accord with France. It has been respectable, honest and conscientious, but unimaginative and unprogressive. It has not kept abreast of the spirit of the time. It has permitted a long-simmering permanent deadlock to fester in the judgment of men of vision and initiative."

"Men who voted the Labor party," according to the PITTSBURGH POST-GAZETTE, "did so as the consequence of a feeling of dissatisfaction with the old way of doing things, and not for the purpose of the furtherance of socialism."

The INDIANAPOLIS NEWS suggests as to the Labor organization that "it may be that it will turn out to be the old liberalism brought down to date."

The OMAHA WORLD-HERALD observes the threatened extension of the Liberal party, the historic spokesman of the Manchester school of economics and champion of the industrial interests of the empire. The SPRINGFIELD ILLINOIS STATE

Protestant Church Unification Plans Are Being Advanced

Religious Institute At Buck-hill Falls, Pa., Favors
Unification Issue

Many Obstacles In Path Of Merger Plans; May Take Years To Perfect

By COLLEY S. BAKER,
International News Service Special
Correspondent
BUCK HILL FALLS, Pa., June 12.—
Out of the institute of religion, which concludes its sessions tomorrow
at Buck Hill Falls, Pa., there is expected to come a movement the definite aim of which will be for unification of all Protestant churches in America.

However, this movement is expected to have a long and stormy way. Merger of the Protestant churches will not be an overnight accomplishment, according to consensus of opinion of leaders of the conference today. It will meet with opposition among both clergy and laymen, and a long educational campaign, carried on forcefully, may bring about a united church within the next generation
it was said.

Many Obstacles
There was discussion today of the obstacles to church union, with special emphasis being placed upon the methods by which they may be overcome, and it is expected, either late today or tomorrow, Dr. William Adams Brown's committee on "findings" will make its report containing an outline of methods for church unity
in America.

While business men in the conference expressed impatience over the slow progress of church unification, some of the foremost ministers of the country made it plain in answer to them that religion is not a business and that churches with different doctrines and beliefs can not be merged as railroads and chain stores.

Seek Fewer Churches
Business men advanced the economic "waste" argument against having so many church denominations
when they felt that few churches would reduce the overhead costs.

"There's a large unrest among the business men—the men who are paying the bills—and there's something going to be done about it," was the way E. M. McBrier, of Montclair, N.
J., a business man, expressed the lay viewpoint of some of the conference members.

Ministerial viewpoints differed greatly from that of the business men, but there appears to be general agreement among clergymen where there are too many denominations.

the meetings here.

Leaders Here
Listed among those who attended the meeting were Royal E. Cook, general chairman of the advisory board and traffic manager for the H. G.
Heinz Co. of Pittsburgh, Pa.; R. Bruce Robinson, general traffic manager of the General Alloy Steel Co. of Massillon, Ohio, and chairman of the executive committee, was present and in charge of the meeting this morning.

Among others present were J. M.
Belleville, vice general chairman of the organization, E. R. Gilbert, general secretary and Charles Brooks, secretary.

Folding the business sessions this forenoon, F. Morehead, local chairman of the meeting, introduced to the board members the following local men who are also members of the advisory group. These men were S. R.
Cical, Robert Lenz, Dick Russell, A.
C. Hoyt, W. W. Dickey, J. H. Love and Ralph Doherty.

One at Field Club
Following the session, the sessions showing the case, the entire body met in the dining room of the field club where lunch was served.
The Pennsylvania railroad E. and A. division orchestra furnished the music during the luncheon hour.

This afternoon, the group members are guests of the field club and are playing golf about the 18 hole course.
Tonight, a large number of the general membership are expected to arrive. At the Castleton at 10 o'clock, a big smoker and buffet luncheon is planned. This will be the general get-together party for the entire membership.

Main Session Thursday
At 9:30 o'clock Thursday morning, Judge James A. Chambers will welcome the entire assembly of visitors in the huge auditorium of the Castleton. At this time, announcements will be made concerning the work done at the executive committee meeting this morning, and the place for the September meeting will also be named. Both Canton, O., and Morgantown, W. Va., are making strong bids for the securing of this next meeting.

This meeting Thursday morning will be the final and main meeting of the regional board. It will be open to the public, and announcements of business conditions will be made and final business taken care of prior to adjournment.

Members of the board are expecting one of the largest meetings ever to occur to take place here on Thursday morning.
The program for Thursday afternoon following the business meeting will include tours of inspection through local plants.

Kolis Is Tried On Robbery Charge

Denies Charge And Also That Of Aggravated Assault
And Battery

Zigmund Kolis was placed on trial before Judge Hildebrand in court this morning on charges of larceny and aggravated assault and battery made by Gregory Omelnyk.

It is claimed by the prosecutor that he went to Kolis' house about one o'clock on Easter morning and that they had a few glasses of beer. Omelnyk claims that Kolis wanted him to go out and look for some liquor and he went with him.

After they had knocked at a door on Big Run street, where they did not get any response, according to Omelnyk, Kolis threw a stone at him, striking him on the right temple. It is claimed that Kolis then picked up the stone and hit Omelnyk on the other temple, tore his pocket and extracted $55. Omelnyk was taken to the hospital, where three stitches were placed in one wound and two in another. On cross-examination Omelnyk was asked if it was not the man at whose door they had knocked that had thrown the stone. He said it was not.

Kolis denies that he struck Omelnyk with the stone or robbed him. The case is still on trial.

CAMPBELL CASE READY FOR JURY SOMETIME TODAY

ways had been happy, and that "Har-

By DAVID P. SENTNER,

ELIZABETH R. J. June 12.—A veritable bag of bones, Henry Colin Campbell, running a "witching, sail-low hand through his white hair, resumed the witness stand today for further cross-examination at his trial for the alleged torch murder of Mrs.
Mildred Mowry, his bigamous wife.

His underhanging jaw moved convulsively as he answered answers to the aggressive questions of Prosecutor Abe J. David, the 61-year-old quack medical man apparently missed the opiates to which he confessed he was an addict.

His third wife, Mrs. Rosalie Campbell looking almost as pale as her husband, was in court to support his fight to escape the electric chair.

Blind "Went Blank"
Campbell's defense is that his mind
"went blank" between the time he started out with Mrs. Mowry from Philadelphia in his automobile for Westfield, N. J., his home. The burned body of the victim was found at Granford, N. J., last February 23.

"Do you remember when I took you to the scene of your crime on April 13 and you showed me about where the body was lying?" asked Prosecutor David.

"I don't remember," stammered Campbell. "I don't even remember saying anything."

Princess Ingrid Slated To Marry British Royalty

Either Prince Of Wales Or Prince George Will Like

Princess

ENGAGEMENT NEWS EXPECTED DAILY

(International News Service)
LONDON, June 12.—Despite denials, rumors were persistent in high society circles today that Princess Ingrid of the Swedish royal family, who is now visiting England, may marry into the British royal family and that the engagement may be arranged before her departure.

The names of both the Prince of Wales, bachelor heir to the throne, and his younger brother, Prince George, have been mentioned.

"There is absolutely no truth in the report that the Prince of Wales is about to become engaged to Princess Ingrid," Sir Godfrey Thomas, secretary and equerry to the prince, told International News Service this afternoon.

While there is evident belief on the part of the press that there is the possibility of an engagement between the princess and either the Prince of Wales or Prince George, usage prevents them from publishing such rumors. However, the papers are printing long accounts of the princess' pleasing personality and her eligibility.

"Model Husband" Is Held In Custody On Charges Of Bigamy

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, June 12.—Louis G. Sudar, 27-year-old "model husband," found himself in a mix-up with the law, and all because of too much praise from his wife, that is, his first wife, he told police.

Rated as a "model husband" by his first wife, Sudar decided to marry again. He did. The second wife was young, beautiful and wealthy. However, wife No. 1 met wife No. 2 and a bluecoat met Sudar when he returned from a shopping trip to New York.

The model husband was called to appear before Magistrate Edward Carney. After the hearing the two women declare they will go to New York, the scene of the second marriage, and prefer bigamy charges against Sudar.

STOOD ALONE FIVE YEARS AGO—STANDS ALONE TODAY

"Chrysler came into a seemingly crowded motor car market and almost immediately swept its way into unprecedented acceptance as a quality product. That which ordinarily takes years to achieve was won almost overnight. + + Why? Because Chrysler brushed aside outworn traditions in engineering, in design, and in performance. It brought to bear both scientific exactness and artistry. + + That is why Chrysler has taken the country by storm — why it still stands and will long stand alone — why, if you want what Chrysler gives, Chrysler alone can satisfy you."

CHRYSLER'S PLACE IN THE SUN

Prior to five years ago there were no Chrysler motor cars. In five years, Chrysler, from a standing start, has overtaken leading cars of three, four and five times its age.

The spectacle of a newcomer so swiftly becoming a leader can bring the logical mind to but one conclusion: There must be something remarkable, something altogether different and superior, in the cars that Chrysler builds.

There is a definite superiority in Chrysler cars. Hundreds of thousands of motorists the world over have learned it.

There is in Chrysler performance, a thrilling sense of endless power, a swift eagerness of life and spirit, a restful feeling of perfect balance and positive safety that cannot be experienced except in a Chrysler. There is in Chrysler design artistic freshness and modern charm. There is in Chrysler riding qualities a smoothness, a cradled restfulness quite without counterpart.

Drive a Chrysler car today and realize, better than words could ever tell you, why Chrysler has won so glittering a place in the sun—and why Chrysler goes on and on to an ever-increasing popularity and prestige.

When a Child is FEVERISH, CROSS, UPSET

Colic, gas, sour belching, frequent vomiting, feverishness, in babies and children, generally show food is souring in the little digestive tract.

When these symptoms appear, give Baby a teaspoonful of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. Add it to the first bottle of food in the morning. Older children should be given a tablespoonful in a glass of water. This will comfort the child—make his stomach and bowels easy. In five minutes he is comfortable, happy. It will sweep the bowels free of all sour, indigestible food. It opens the bowels in constipation, colds, children's ailments. Children take it readily because it is palatable, pleasant-tasting.

Learn its many uses for mother and child. Write for the interesting book, "Useful Information." Address The Phillips Co., 117 Hudson St., New York, N. Y. It will be sent FREE.

In buying, be sure to get genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. Doctors have prescribed it for over 50 years.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Chas. H. Phillips Chemical Co., and its predecessor, Chas. H. Phillips, since 1875.

BECAUSE CROW CRIED
"DANGER" TOO OFTEN

However, sad as the memories of old times made White Heron feel, in a moment he managed to pull himself together and continue his story.

"There is nothing very cheerful about this tale I am telling, but if you wish to hear it you shall. As I was saying, as soon as the nestlings are hatched, busy days set in for their mother and for me. You have no idea how fast the babies grow. Then, if ever, we parent Herons give our wings plenty of exercise.

"At other times of the year we much prefer to use our legs and wade about in the water, but when there are so many little mouths to be fed it would take us too long to walk, besides we could not get the food to the nest, and so we fly, sailing back and forth all day long, our long legs dangling in the air, our beautiful plumes trailing behind us—long mantles of snow white fluff—wife and I take turns at bringing the little shavers tidbits from the swamps."

Suddenly White Heron stopped talking and looked about him in a frightened sort of way, peering first in one direction and then in another, as though he more than half expected danger to creep upon him from some quarter.

"Don't stop now, White Heron, go on, do! What are you shaking like that for?" The boy noticed the bird's long legs were trembling once more.

"I don't know what is the matter with me," chattered Heron. "Nothing is wrong now—the coast is clear—but somehow every single time I get to this part of my story I am afraid, for what I am going to tell you is very, very dreadful.

"Wife and I were so busy that we did not notice an object coming down the stream. Suddenly we heard a hoarse cry:

"Neighbor Herons, Neighbor Herons, beware! A stranger is in the swamps!"

"It was friend Black Crow calling to us, but he was always warning the swamp people of something or other—it seems as if a stalk of grass swaying in the wind was enough to make him cry 'Danger!' so we did not pay much attention to his signal.

"That old sentinel's bright eye has caught sight of something he has not seen before and he is making his usual how-to-do about it," chuckled wife.

"What a pity Crow doesn't make sure of what things are before he tries to stir up an alarm! One of these fine days danger is going to come into the swamps and we shall not escape it because he has fooled us so often," I replied.

"Next: 'An Attack by the Enemy.'"

In City Building

After a lapse of several weeks, the members of the Booster club will get down to business at their regular semi-monthly meeting in the council chambers in the city building at 3 o'clock this evening.

The post has not had a full meeting since early in May, the attendance being small at the meeting held the evening prior to Memorial Day owing to the fact that local business houses were open on that evening, and many other members were away over the holiday.

Many important business matters are due to come up for discussion this evening and the officers of the club ask all members to make a special effort to be present this evening.

Youth Regaining His Lost Sight; Craves Baseball

(International News Service)
BALTIMORE, Md., June 12.—Baseball was the first thing Clifford Dillon of Webb, W. Va., thought of today when he saw the light for the first time in his 16 years.

An operation at the Baltimore Eye, Ear and Throat hospital removed cataracts from his heretofore sightless eyes. When the bandages were removed his finger was lifted before him and he was able to see it. Later, when his eyes could stand more light, he saw trees and the sky.

He yearns to see a baseball game, many of which have been described to him when he attended them with friends.

American Legion Creates New Fund

Will Establish Fund To Provide Aid In Time Of Disasters

(International News Service) INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 12.—The American Legion's national Americanism commission has recommended creation of a national fund to finance relief work of the Legion members in times of storms, floods and other major disasters.

Contributions will be solicited only from members of the Legion and its auxiliary.

Frank L. Pinola, of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., chairman of the Commission, explained the project, as follows:

"For a number of years the Legion with its 10,000 posts, has been able to bring an organized force of rescue and relief workers into action on the scene of disasters within a few minutes after the disaster strikes. But this work has been handicapped by lack of funds. Creation of the national emergency relief fund will enlarge greatly the Legion's ability to give service in times of disaster."

Resolutions adopted by the commission outline the mode of procedure, as follows:

1. That contributions be collected from members of the Legion and its auxiliary for an emergency relief fund on a day to be selected by the national commander, not later than July 4.

2. That each department be urged to collect on the day designated a sum which shall equal at least 10 cents per member.

3. That the sum so collected be turned over to national headquarters to be known as the American Legion Emergency Relief Fund.

4. That appropriations from the fund shall be made only at times of disasters or calamities during the 'rap period' between the occurrence of the disaster and the arrival on the scene of existing agencies of rehabilitation supported by the public, and

TELLS OF RECENT WESTERN TRIP

Mr. George W. Conway, Editor Evening News:

Returned from a two weeks vacation a week ago, have not recovered from the auto and railroad fatigue and am wondering why a fellow cannot have what you call a perpetual vacation when the overworked brain craves it.

The farms along the Pennsylvania railroad between Terre Haute Ind. and East St. Louis, Ill., were in a deplorable condition, caused by the late heavy rains overflowing the banks of streams along the low lands, burying farms from three inches to a foot in water at Granite City adjacent to East St. Louis, homes were submerged to such an extent as to make them untenable caused by the back-flow of the Mississippi river. On some of the highways over which we drove sightseeing, water, reached the runningboard of our car, killing the motor, stranding us for quite a time.

From the appearance of the majority of farms it will take at least a month of dry sunshine weather to place them in shape for planting.

Excepting one day our ten days in and around St. Louis was enjoyed in crisp sunshine weather.

We were the guests of Wm. H. Thilking of the Tower-Grove branch postoffice. We were treated in a royal manner by every one we met and many questions were asked us of New Castle. If promises come true we expect to show off New Castle to at least a dozen St. Louis tourists the latter part of this summer and early fall.

The Missouri strawberries are some fruit all right and the way those natives serve them is wonderful, oh mamma.

Yours,
H. DUVAL ROBINSON.

Requests Newly Appointed Board Probe Border Case

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, June 12.—President Hoover's new law enforcement commission should start its work by investigating the killing of Henry Virkula near International Falls, Minn., by a customs officer seeking rum runners, Rep. William A. Pittenger (R) of Minnesota, who represents Virkula's district, declared in the house Tuesday.

Pittenger said that he rose "to protest in the name of the people of my district against this violation of law and constitutional government."

A disinterested public official, he said, telegraphed him that Virkula was shot by a customs officer as soon as he ran past their sign on the highway while driving his family. No liquor was found in his car. The agent, he said used a sawed off shot gun.

STEEL PRODUCTION BREAKING RECORDS

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, June 12.—Steel production continues its record-breaking performance with prospects that the total output for June may closely approach the high average for the three preceding months, the Iron Age will say tomorrow in its weekly summary of the iron and steel trade.

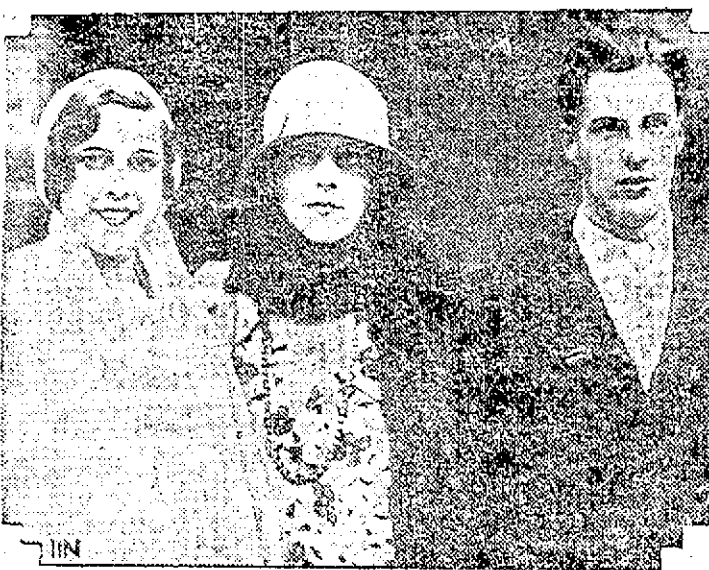

"Specifications for the automobile industry continue to show a decline, but the extent of reduction has been less than had been looked for," the Iron Age said. "Rail orders are increasing, but completion, although, because of the pressure for other materials they will occupy the mills longer than usual. Tin plate is also feeling the effects of seasonal influence and standard pipe reflects the recession in general building activity. Mill backlogs, however, are unusually large and little decline in production can be expected until deliveries improve materially."

"Fabricated steel fittings have established a new weekly record at present. Railroad equipment business is featured by the largest locomotive buying in years. Pittsburgh builders of river barges are heavily engaged and agricultural implement makers are taking steel at an unchanged rate. Large commitments of pipe line may be augmented."

"An excellent situation among machine tool manufacturers is significant as an index of industrial activity. Unfilled orders of the National Machine Tool Builders' Association reached a new monthly record in May. Contracts for black sheets have been closed by large buyers in the automotive field. Blast furnace operations in Pittsburgh area are highest since the war. Foundries, however, are slow."

Composite pig iron prices have declined eight cents. Iron Age will declare, while finished steel is unchanged.

New Castle Lady Declares Ten Herbs Swept Away Long-Standing Ills.

Results—not exaggerated claims and promises—are what count, and that is why Ten Herbs, the famous new herbal medicine, is meeting with tremendous success throughout this entire section, for everyone who reads

MRS. MARY OLIVER

the local newspaper must know what satisfying and even amazing results men and women of this locality are deriving from this compound, in cases of long-standing disorders of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Ten Herbs consists of ten wonderful natural ingredients, which cleanse and tone up the whole human system and relieve rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness.

"Ten Herbs gave me wonderful relief," was the recent statement of Mrs. Mary Oliver, 341 King Street, New Castle. "For a long time I had suffered from nervousness and terrible headaches. Food did not agree with me, and formed gas, which at times caused pains around my heart. My tongue was always coated, and my skin was sallow. I felt as tired in the morning as if I had done a hard day's work. Constipation troubled me a great deal. My kidneys were in bad condition. There were severe pains across my back, and I had to arise several times every night. A friend recommended Ten Herbs to me. I started using your medicine, and now I am not the least bit nervous, and those headaches have been relieved. My appetite has improved. Gas no longer forms on my stomach, and the pains around my heart have ceased. My tongue is clear, and I have better complexion. Constipation has been wonderfully overcome. The pains have left my back. I enjoy a good night's rest, and am refreshed when I get up in the morning. I feel like an entirely different woman. I gladly recommend Ten Herbs to my friends and the public."

Let Ten Herbs cleanse your whole system—drive out poisonous waste matter, impurities and troublesome gas. Let it enrich your blood, improve your appetite, restore natural sleep, and bring new feelings of health and strength in general. Ten Herbs is being introduced at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, and is sold at all drug and medicine stores throughout this entire section.

James Kolonie Back After 21 Months Spent In Native Land

James Kolonie, one of the proprietors of the Lawrence Confectionery store, Washington street and Croton avenue, has just returned home after spending 22 months in his native land and Albania.

He spent much of the time in his native town of Corche, visiting at the home of his parents.

Mr. Kolonie found conditions much different than when he came to this country about 15 years ago. They are really improved and at the present time business is fairly good and the country at peace something for which he found his people most thankful. The other countries are letting Albania alone at the present time and this is working for the betterment of internal conditions there.

While over there Mr. Kolonie married a young lady whom he had known in his youth before coming to this country. She returned with him, as turning to the old home country for did also their seven-month-old daughter a visit and renewing old friendships for

ON TOP THE WORLD AT LAST! ME AND MY GOOBER REACHED THE TOP OF PIKE'S PEAK SUNDAY AT ELEVEN THIRTY A. M. I AM RECEIVING BOTH PRAISE AND RIDICULE. BUT AT ANY RATE THE DIFFICULT AND PERILOUS TASK IS COMPLETED. I HAVE WON. AND REGARDLESS OF THE TASK A FELLOW SETS OUT TO DO THERE IS ALWAYS A JOY IN WINNING. I FINISHED ONE AND ONE HALF DAYS AHEAD OF MY SCHEDULE. I FULLY BELIEVE I WAS ABLE TO DO IT DUE TO THE EXTRA ENERGY I RECEIVED FROM EATING PLENTY OF TOM'S TOASTED PEANUTS EVERY DAY.

BILL WILLIAMS

A Message from Tom

Three weeks ago I read in the papers that Bill Williams was about to undertake to push a peanut up Pike's Peak with his nose. I thought to myself what a ridiculous thing to attempt. Then I had another thought. I knew it would take a whole lot of energy to do the job. Why not send Bill several cases of TOM'S TOASTED PEANUTS? For it's a known fact that Spanish Peanuts—which are used in making Tom's—contain an abundance of energy. So the toasted peanuts went to Bill—Bill liked them. He liked the peanuts so well that he has been eating them ever since. He says it will be a daily habit from now on.

Frankly, I now have a lot more respect for Bill Williams than I had three weeks ago. Was the Pike's Peak push such a foolish thing after all? I say no. He deserves credit. He has accomplished something worth while. My hat is off to him. His feat is an inspiration to me. He has shown us all that the way to reach the top of any job is to keep forever pushing.

After all Bill Williams and I have a lot in common. I, myself, am just another "Peanut Pusher." My job is to push TOM'S TOASTED PEANUTS. And I want to tell you right here that never before have you eaten such tasty peanuts. There's simply no way to make them more delicious! So my job now is to make YOU acquainted with their downright goodness.

Before today is gone, I want you try a package of real toasted peanuts. They cost but a nickel. They are packed in tall, slender bags with a red seal at the top. They are already on sale in 75,000 of the best stores in this country. And hundreds of new stores are adding TOM'S TOASTED PEANUTS every day.

Remember, my wish is that you try a package today. From then on, you will be eating them regularly just as Bill Williams and millions of others are doing.

Sincerely,

—Tom

dent and the quick-trigger tactics they declare editorially that government operations are employing. Emmett White, notice government guardsman, who shot Virkula to death with a riot gun as the confederator was driving his wife and daughters homeward, today remained in sanctuary of the county jail. Strong feeling in this section is believed to have influenced him to prefer jail to liberty on a $1,500 bond fixed after a coroner's jury ordered him charged with second degree manslaughter.

White's preliminary trial will begin next week, probably Monday. Belief was general that he would be held to the grand jury.

Mrs. Virkula revealed that after her husband died in her arms, White, a bachelor, said to her, "don't be afraid. I have a wife and children of my own. And don't talk. They will ask you all kinds of questions."

White, a recruit in the customs service since May 1, had not yet been certified by the Civil Service commission.

Agent Roberts said his examination of the Virkula car showed that three of the shots which White said he fired at the tires were fired from a distance of not more than eight or ten feet. In the army before entering the customs patrol White was rated an expert marksman.

Investigators asserted that no one of the fusillade of shots sent by White struck the automobile lower than eighteen inches above the top of the tires.

Expect Crowd At Alumni Reunion

Final Arrangements Are Made At Meeting Of Committee On Tuesday

Supplies for advance work in connection with the annual reunion of the New Castle High School Alumni association, to occur at Cascade park, on Friday, June 21, were distributed to class representatives at the meeting of the general committee at the Y. W. C. A. last night. Chairman Walter W. Duff and President Ralph A. Cooper were in charge.

Final plans for the outing were drafted and approved. It is anticipated that nearly one thousand graduates of New Castle will attend. The schedule calls for a picnic supper in the grove at 6:30 o'clock, daylight savings time and a grand march at the pavilion at nine o'clock to be followed by dancing.

Class committees are being chosen and real action preparatory to sending out invitations has commenced. It is hoped by the committee that every student will return the card sent them so that a permanent mailing list for future reference might be secured.

Graduates of the commercial department at the high school, of which the committee has no record, are invited as well and it is hoped that each attend if at all possible. This pertains to those of other classes who might be missed unintentionally in mailing the invitations.

Class committees should meet soon to plan for their supper in the grove. This matter will be in the hands of the class groups entirely. Dancing is being arranged by the association.

French Wine Is On Decline As Price Goes Up

Quality Descends As Prices Soar In Eating Houses Of Continent

PROHIBITION BEING SUGGESTED AS REMEDY

PARIS, June 12.—Wine may not be drunk in France in a few years, except by millionaires and home brewers. Before the war one was served good wine with his meal, without extra charge, by almost all hotels and restaurants. One by one the eating places have been dropping this custom, thus forcing the patron to call for the wine card and to order his table drinks, should he wish them.

And on the wine cards the prices have gone up with amazing speed. In the few places which still cling to the good old custom, more obsolete this season than ever before, the wine served is of such mediocrity that only the most hardened drinkers will drink it.

With the price of wine rising and the quality falling, Frenchmen have been curtailing their consumption. He who formerly took a quart of wine with his repast contented himself last year with two glasses and can now be seen ordering only one.

Those who feel most aggrieved by these changes are heard talking of prohibition as a possible remedy.

The Amazons of this city have a large contempt for such weak, manly sports as pushing the bicycle. These muscular ladies have taken up football and basketball with enthusiasm and form invincible teams and extensive rivalries in these games. They hurl the discs and leap the hurdles with great pride and delight.

But when a recent attempt was made to enlist the interests of French women in cycling, it proved a sad failure. Although Paris was plastered with posters presenting all the allrements of this activity and naming time and place for a grand gathering, no one turned up. A new campaign is now under way expected by the promoters to result in a flood of knickerbockers wheeling down Parisian boulevards.

Accounts of men's cycling events fill the sport pages here, however. Hundreds enter the all-day races into the country, and the velodromes are full of professional cyclists who win their spurs and bring before thousands of spectators, packed in and standing.

The ladies, nevertheless, stand pat in their scorn of this childlike and simple sport and prefer the riors of boxing and football to anything else that is offered.

The girls of France are forming into armies.

Cohorts of powerful numbers of girls under such names as "The Young Patriots" are being trained in as firm and exact a discipline as any seasoned army corps.

At the Jeanne d'Arc celebrations they marched ten thousand strong in parade with military order and precision, and as they passed the state of their national heroine, turned their heads toward it as one man (or one girl) and saluted in perfect unison.

Such well trained organizations as this are only one manifestation of the growing power of women in France.

They have long scorned the male sex, the young men, and have never been sufficiently convinced of its importance to secure for themselves the suffrage, although their strength in the family is such that the French society is sometimes called matriarchal.

But a coming Amazonian streak has been growing throughout the country, exposing itself in an unprecedented interest in sports, not ladylike games, but virile, rough and tumble sports, such as football.

That they have been uniting in formidable bodies was not realized until their display at the Jeanne d'Arc celebration, since which time the papers have been publishing considerable conjecture as to their power and intent.

Boy Is Shot In Legs And Arms By Unknown Person

BUTLER, Pa., June 12.—Gilbert Ferne, 12, is recovering in the Butler hospital from severe wounds in the legs and arms, received late yesterday afternoon on the Criswell road, four miles Southwest of Butler, from the discharge of a shotgun in the hands of an unidentified person. Three sisters and a neighbor girl who were with the boy, did not see any one with a gun and the police authorities are at a loss to explain the shooting. The boy was able to walk to his home about 50 yards away. He was brought to the office of a Butler physician and then taken to the hospital. A clump of bushes by the roadside, about 150 feet from where Gilbert stood when the shot was fired, concealed the person who fired the gun, in the opinion of officers.

Chicago Gangs Boss Over All City Industry

Find Gunmen Control Ninety Per Cent Of Economic Activities

MANY RACKETS ARE CONTROLLED BY GANGS

By BYRON F. RIDDLE

International News Service Staff

CHICAGO, June 12.—Gangsters and gunmen control more than 90 per cent of the economic activities of Chicago, is the consensus of a statement made in the organized crime survey recently compiled by John Landesco of the American Institute of Criminal Law and Criminology.

The entire report is based on a story of bomb throwing, sluggings and all the violence attendant on the campaign to bring industries to the point where they may be mulcted of hundreds of thousands of dollars.

In Many Trades.

Maxie Eisen, racketeer in the baking and fish business; Simon J. Gorman, called the "car of the laundry industry"; the late Tim Murphy, Tony's Torrio, the time monarch of Chicago's gangland; and Al Capone, who succeeded Torrio, all occupy prominent places in the report.

Gorman, it is said, was at one time paid $7,500 a year by the Chicago Laundry Owners' association just for his good will. It was charged that he forced hand laundries to pay him 10 per cent of their wash bill; refused to allow hand laundries to have work done by the organized wet wash laundries; and when they went to the open shop wet wash laundries, their windows were smashed and their drivers slugged.

In the cleaning and dyeing racket, Walter G. Walker, former assistant state's attorney, is quoted as having information that cleaners association members had paid certain persons to put acids in the vats of non-member cleaners to ruin the clothes.

Poison Floor Rivals.

Maxie Eisen was accused of putting poison in the sausage supplies of rival meat concerns, and subsequently an injunction was issued to restrain him from doing this.

The report points out that in order to carry on illicit work the gangster needs political protection.

"During primaries and elections the evidence of the alliance of gangsters and politicians has again and again become a public scandal," the report reads. "Election frauds are one of the ways in which gangsters and gunmen have repaid politicians for favors received."

American Woman Gets British Title

LONDON, June 12.—Mrs. Cara Le-lend Broughton, daughter of the late H. H. Rogers, American oil king, has had the title of Lady Fairhaven conferred upon her by King George.

Broughton died in January and her year's honor list, was conferred upon his eldest son, Urban Huttleston Rogers Broughton, who took the title of Baron Fairhaven of Lode.

The king has also declared that Henry Rogers Broughton, second and youngest son, shall enjoy the title, rank, pre-eminence and precedence as if his father had survived to become a baron.

DENVER FIRM FINDS WOMEN HANDLE FUNDS

DENVER, June 12.—Women are replacing men as the dominant financial element of the nation, according to Walter P. McDowell, president of the United States League of Building and Loan associations.

"A great percentage of the clients on our books all over the United States are now women," he said. "They are the ones who are saving to build homes or are investing their husband's money with an eye to a sound return. In the old days a woman client was extremely rare."

Placing of the money of the American home with the wife and mother has done a great deal toward emancipation of American women, McDowell believes.

Conflicting reports were received regarding developments after the landing of Urbina's forces from the seized United States steamship Maracibo on Sunday. According to word from Caracas, the insurgents were repulsed in a clash with Venezuelan government troops at Coro. An un-

NO CURE

There is no cure for the man bitten with the bug of office-holding or office-seeking. One might think that would cure the victim but it only makes him worse. Election soothes him for a time but effects no permanent cure. Some, indeed, are so afflicted that holding one office they demand the stimulant that comes from chasing another. It is a restless, never-ending advantage that men embark upon when they seek office.

All this is but comment on life and times and is not a criticism of men who are candidates. It is fortunate there are good men—a few—who are willing to give up time and money and sacrifice their private business for the sake of the public service. Of course not many are animated by such motives. Most of them just crave a gold-braid job. When we do detect a modest and able man seeking public office it is our duty to be for him.

WISDOM

Wisdom is not confined to civilized peoples and it is not confined to the white race. Some proverb of a primitive tribe in Africa, being interpreted into English, proves that savages have the intelligence to size up life. Among the proverbs are these: "Two clever women do not plant rice in the same field." "He who boasts is not always rich." "The sound of the snapping trap which has caught me remains in my ears."

TOO LIMITED

Lola Jean Simpson, once a teacher and now editor of "Children," a magazine for parents, says: "Monotony bounds teachers and takes out all the inspiration to do a fine piece of work. I doubt if any woman has any business teaching more than ten years. I advise any woman with intelligence to train herself for another field at the end of ten years."

Miss Simpson seems to be lacking in vision or is unduly pessimistic. A good mind ought to improve steadily through ten years of use. What can exercise the mind more than the analysis of a subject which is necessary to true teaching? What can stimulate the mind more than contact with young lives? What offers more improvement for one's self than the study made necessary for intelligent teaching?

The victim of monotony usually has a mind with a small entrance and a small exit. Why this talk about ten years? The mind is not like a piece of cheap machinery. It does not wear out. It improves with use—if it is put to good work.

Must Report Auto
Crashes To State

HARRISBURG, June 12.—A provision in the new Motor Code makes an important change in the method of reporting accidents. Under the old Code it was necessary to report to local authorities and the Department of Highways all accidents involving injuries or death to any person or a property damage of more than $50. Under the motor Code as now effective it is necessary to make reports only to the bureau of motor vehicles, Department of Revenue, Harrisburg, unless a city or borough by ordinance provide for reports of accidents occurring within their jurisdiction. Failure to report may mean a fine of $10 and costs, or five days' imprisonment.

Washington, June 12.—An invitation to Ramsay MacDonald, the British Premier, to come to the United States for a series of conferences with President Hoover on Anglo-American problems probably will be extended in the very near future, according to authoritative reports here today.

It likely will await, however, Gen. Charles G. Dawes' arrival in England to take up his duties as ambassador.

VARIED DIET IS
MOST IMPORTANTEat Different, Balanced Foods,
Sweetened to Your Taste

The reason why many people do not eat enough, or do not eat the right kind of food, is that they have allowed their daily diets to become too monotonous. Scientific authorities on diet state that too many people in this country are sacrificing both health and enjoyment by trying to eat unappetizing food.

The intelligent use of sugar as a flavoring or seasoning agent can largely solve this problem. It has been scientifically established that sugar is an energy food in the diet, and in addition to this, it makes other healthful foods more inviting to the appetite. It is the ideal flavoring for fruits, vegetables, cereals and beverages.

The sensible way to health is to eat varied foods which contain the different elements necessary to well-being. It is almost impossible to eat these foods unless they are appealing to our appetites. Almost all of them made more delicious by the addition of nature's great flavor—sugar. Remember the many ways in which sugar combines with health-giving foods—with raw or cooked fruit, in vegetables, desserts, cakes, milk-shakes and cereals. For weariness—eat sugar. The Sugar Institute.

Hitch Hiking Not Against State LawDevelops That Senate Cut Provision Out Of New Code

HARRISBURG, June 12.—As it originally passed the house of representatives Pennsylvania's motor code contained a provision making it illegal for so-called "hitch-hikers" or "thumb-jerkers" to stand along the roadside soliciting "lifts" from motorists. The paragraph was stricken out in the senate, and the action was agreed to by the house. "Hitch-hiking" may be a dangerous practice, or a nuisance, as the individual cares to regard it, but, Motor Vehicle Commissioner Ben Eynon points out, it is not illegal. It is understood that the senate's objection to placing a ban on the practice arose from the fact that students at various colleges "brought pressure to bear," objecting strenuously to what they called an infringement on their right to get home week-ends with the least possible expense.

Pencil Output In
Year Is 37,749,040

HARRISBURG, June 12.—Pennsylvania manufactured enough lead pencils in 1928 to cover the outside area of the Washington monument seven times, according to the bureau of statistics of the Pennsylvania department of internal affairs. The monument is 555 feet in height and approximately 55 feet square at the base.

The area of the Washington monument is approximately 62,160 square feet while an area of about 491,534 square feet would be necessary to hold all of Pennsylvania manufactured lead pencils if laid side by side.

Two Recent Border Slayings Is Disturbing To Government Officials

By ROBERT S. THORNEURGH
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Greatly disturbed by two new prohibition shootings on the Canadian border, treasury officials today promised speedy removal from office of any agent exceeding his authority in the use of firearms.

Investigations by special agents were in progress in the killing of a collector by a customs guard at International Falls, Minn., and the wounding of a boy by another customs man at Detroit. Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Seymour Lowman expected preliminary reports within a few days.

Guided by Reports
"The treasury, of course, will be guided by the reports," Lowman said. "If the customs men violated the instructions they will be dealt with properly."

"The government will make no defense for them on appearance in courts should it develop that they were guilty of improper use of firearms or exceeding their authority."

Customarily when prohibition or other enforcement agents are held for shootings in state courts, their cases are transferred into the federal courts and they are defended by United States attorneys at the request of the Treasury Department. Few prohibition agents have been dismissed in the courts when accused for killing bootleggers, suspects or others, when on duty.

Lowman declared the Treasury will not countenance careless use of firearms. Over-zealous agents will not remain in the service, he said. He called attention to the official instructions, which held that "an officer should remember that he will be held strictly accountable as personally responsible for the fatal result of any use of firearms by him." Other details of the firearms order were:

Should Be Careful
"The promiscuous flourishing and display of firearms is prohibited. A weapon should never be drawn on a person except in self-defense or to prevent the commission of a felony."

"The unwise and unwarranted use of firearms by officers in the past has caused the bureau considerable embarrassment and resulted in much unfavorable and harmful publicity."

While it is not intended that an officer should remain passive and jeopardize his own life or the life of an associate when danger threatens, it is intended that extreme caution and cool deliberation should control his actions.

President Hoover recently made clear that prohibition agents had been warned against unnecessary use of firearms. It was understood that the matter would be talked over by high officials at the Treasury with Prohibition Commissioner J. M. Dwyer and Acting Customs Commissioner Frank Dow, with a view to taking new precautions against killings.

Red Cross Plans To Organize For Membership Drive

Formation Of Membership Committee To Open Extensive Work

Formation of a permanent membership committee for the local chapter of the Red Cross was authorized at Tuesday afternoon's meeting of the organization's board of directors. The committee acted on the resolution drawn up at a recent meeting of the Red Cross representatives at Harrisburg, in which the formation of such committees was urged.

The committee, which named by the chairman and secretary, will assume complete responsibility for the enrollment of members, plan the annual roll call, enroll roll call workers, select a roll call chairman and perform other duties that are necessary.

The 13th annual roll call in the county districts will also be one of the committee's greater projects. They will plan it and carry out those plans. In New Castle, Ellwood City and New Wilmington, the chapter enters the community chest drives, held separate from the roll call. The roll call canvass this year will occur around Armistice Day.

Executive Secretary F. Dempsey stated today that every effort is being made to place Pennsylvania in the highest rank for membership this year. Last year it was third in the section of states in which it is listed.

SHABUOTH WILL BE OBSERVED

Feast Of Pentecost To Be Observed At Temple Israel

The festival of Shabuoth will be observed at Temple Israel with holiday services on Thursday night at 8 o'clock and Friday morning at 10:30. "The Essence of Contract" is the theme Rabbi Menkes has chosen for the evening service.

"What Are You Worth? After the services there will be a social hour. Saturday morning services at 10:30. The pulpit flowers will be furnished by Mrs. J. Winsberg of Grove City in loving memory of her husband.

SHABUOTH—THE FEAST OF PENTECOST
The celebration of the Feast of Pentecost, known in Hebrew as "Shabuoth"—the Feast of Weeks—will begin on Thursday evening, June 13, 1929. According to the Bible, this festival is to be observed one day.

Throughout Jewish history, the Feast of Weeks has assumed a dominant place in Jewish life. It commemorates the event on Mount Sinai, when the children of Israel received the Ten Commandments—an event which caused the Jewish people to become a spiritualizing force throughout the generations. For this reason, it has always been celebrated with great joy and gladness.

In ancient times, when the Jewish people lived in Palestine and were tillers of the soil, the Feast of Pentecost was celebrated as a nature festival. In Palestine, the harvest season begins with the first month of spring when the barley crop is reaped, and concludes seven weeks thereafter with the reaping of the wheat harvest. Thus, the last day of the harvest season became a day of great festivity. On that day the Jewish people made a pilgrimage to Jerusalem and offered the first fruits of the wheat harvest with thanks and praise to God.

With the change of environment and circumstances after the destruction of the temple, the agricultural background lost its meaning for the Jewish people. A new concept began to be emphasized and developed around the Festival of Weeks—a concept which gave it spiritual strength to survive to the present day and thus today.

carry a signal message even to our present era.

According to the Bible, Exodus XIX, the children of Israel received the Ten Commandments at Mount Sinai on the very day on which the Feast of Weeks is observed. Thus, the agricultural background for the observance of this festival was no more of vital significance, the Jewish people continued to celebrate it as a day which marks the anniversary of their birthday as a spiritual people, endowed with a noble message to the world. Moses had freed the children of Israel from physical oppression and slavery; but this it not sufficient and slavery must be removed before a people can become a spiritual people. This Moses achieved when he gave the children of Israel the Ten Commandments. It is this message of spiritual freedom that the Feast of Weeks strives to convey to the Jewish people and thus today.

Detroit Youth Dies Of Wounds

Archibald Bugster, 21, Shot By Dry Agent While Fishing, Dies In Hospital

AGENT HAS NOT BEEN ARRESTED

(International News Service) DETROIT, June 12.—Archibald Bugster, 21, reported missing, died in Mclary Industrial hospital today, a victim of a customs border patrol agent's bullet.

The youth lived for more than 25 hours after a bullet from the gun of Inspector Joseph Cox killed him from ambush near the outlet of River Rouge.

Later yesterday Bugster's sister Minnie gave a blood transfusion, but it was to no avail.

Three companions of Bugster told Assistant District Attorney Gregory H. Frederick, who has been assigned to defend Cox, that the patrolman fired with out warning.

The patrol agent's explanation was that he had been in hiding awaiting rum runners whom he expected to appear to retrieve liquor cached in the ship. As Cox approached he saw Bugster holding something in his hand.

"It looked like a weapon," said Cox. "So I let him have it."

All the boys denied they ever had engaged in rum running, and said they were returning from picknick fishing when they encountered Cox.

HANDBAGS SHOULD HARMONIZE WITH COSTUMES

Few women wear their hearts on their sleeves, but most women, says Lelong, famous couturier, show their ultimate conception of style in bags. This accessory is so useful that it sometimes makes women forget that its role as an ornament is more important than any other accessory. In designing my collection I have made handbags to show with most of the costumes. In sports things I like matching the bag to the most "fantaisie" fabric in the costume. In afternoon bags of black antelope I think it good to have a little touch of color. For evening a little envelop seems to me the logical thing.

Congresswoman Asks Financial Aid For Dry Agent Victims

Mrs. Florence Kahn, California Says Families Of Slain Would Be Taken Care Of

Estimate More Than 200 Have Been Killed By Carelessness Of Dry Agents

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, June 12.—Declaring that the "government is responsible for the acts of its agents," Mrs. Florence Kahn, Republican congresswoman from California, today introduced a bill in the House directing the treasury to pay $25,000 to dependents of every person "wantonly or negligently killed by any prohibition officer not acting in self-defense."

With presentation of the measure Mrs. Kahn announced that she would seek support for the measure "as the plain humanitarian duty of the government."

Relief Is Needed

"This is not a 'wet' or a 'dry' bill—it is a humanitarian measure designed to relieve want and suffering by those upon whom government agents have brought disaster," said Mrs. Kahn.

"It may cost $2,000,000 or $3,000,000," she said, "but it should be done."

More than 200 persons have been killed by prohibition, customs and coast guard officers of the federal government since the prohibition law was enacted. The House claims committee would be charged with reviewing each case to determine whether it comes within the scope of her bill, she said.

The bill is the direct outgrowth of the killing of Henry Virkula near International Falls, Wis. Virkula leaving a wife and two daughters.

NO HIGHWAY ACCIDENTS

Pennsylvania Highway patrolmen stationed here said the highways yesterday and last night were free of accidents.

Five Stills Found In House Damaged By Blast And Fire

(International News Service) HAMBURG, Pa., June 12.—After a terrific explosion followed by fire destroyed the old colonial stone home—second formerly owned by Samuel W. Spang, Revolutionary war hero, near Lenhartsville, during the night, five mammoth stills for distilling applejack were found among the ruins today by state police. The loss will amount to $25,000.

It is believed one of the stills with a 1,000 gallon capacity blew up as bits of it narrowly missed, injuring the family of George Hersener, a farmer living nearby. The operators of the stills fled before the arrival of volunteer firemen from Hamburg and Kempton.

Wounds Fatal To Salamanca Man

(International News Service) BRADFORD, Pa., June 12.—Unconscious to the last and unable to explain the shooting, Charles R. Lampere, Salamanca, died here today from wounds inflicted by Joe Valentino, his neighbor, according to police.

Valentino confessed the shooting, police said, claiming Lampere broke windows in his house last night, before the shooting occurred.

Flora Wilbur, resident of the Valentino house, is being held as a material witness.

Gwendolyn Jones was killed in the same house mysteriously, two years ago, before Valentino moved there.

FULL SIZE

THE Chrysler-built Plymouth completely upsets all traditions and notions in low-priced motor cars.

When you make it a matter of cold-blooded business to familiarize yourself with everything that low-priced cars in general have to offer, all the inner voices tell you that the newly-refined full-size Plymouth is exactly the car for your money.

JUDGMENT calmly says, "Plymouth is a Chrysler Motors product—and as such, it is the only low-priced car that can offer the modern style of Chrysler designing or the thrilling performance of Chrysler engineering."

PRIDE says, "Plymouth is a real full-size automobile, not a miniature—the roomiest and most comfortable of all low-priced motor cars—a car you can display to your friends and

$655 and upwards

invite them to ride in, without offering a single excuse."

CAUTION says, "Plymouth is self-evidently a safer car to drive. Its full-size ruggedness in every part is assurance of utmost strength and stability. It is the only low-priced car possessing the famous Chrysler weatherproof internal-expanding 4-wheel hydraulic brakes—always self-equalizing, always uniform and positive in action, and never noisy."

THRIFT says, "Plymouth not only gives you the superior qualities and features that appeal to judgment, pride and caution, but Plymouth at the same time costs so phenomenally little to maintain and operate."

WISDOM, summing it all up, says, "Buy a Plymouth. It is the greatest value in its field."

French Bulls Ruin Ford Investing Plan

Investors Buy Up Large Blocks
Of Stock Offered
To Public

(International News Service) PARIS June 12.—Bulls of the French market are reported to have ruined Henry Ford's plan to permit the "small fry" investing class to grow up with his industry in France.

It is rumored that many bulls were Americans.

At the outset the Ford plan to create thousands of minor shareholders in the Ford Company of France was a success. Shopkeepers, peasants and clerks helped largely to absorb a $2,000,000 franc issue of new capital stock almost as soon as the books were opened.

Shares listed at 100 francs per share were tripled in value on the curb when the issue was sold out. According to an official at the National City Bank, which handled part of the subscription, small investors lacked speculative imagination and considered that Ford stock was not worth holding for more than 200 fr. profit.

"It is inevitable that the shares sold on the curb should congregate in large blocks but we can do nothing about it as the subscription is out of our hands," said the National City Bank official.

(International News Service) BUDAPEST, June 12.—Monsieur Carlo and Nice have to look forward to a new and adequate competition, if rumors are true that the Hungarian government has consented to turn the widely-known Hungarian watering place Balaton-Fured into a fashionable gambling centre, similar to the famous of rather notorious gaming-cities on the Mediterranean.

The concession to establish a Casino at the lake of Balaton was sought for by an international company in which American as well as European capital is interested. An annual grant of several hundred thousand dollars is said to have been offered to the Government for the concession.

Leaves for France

As a result of a personal guarantee of his $25,000 bail by a prominent banker in New York, Count Maxence De Polignac sailed on the S. S. Paris for France in spite of his arrest with 32 others by the Federal authorities in connection with an international rum smuggling ring. His word of honor as a nobleman that he would return in time to face trial was enough for the banker and his bondsman.

Stock Market Is Slowest Of Year

No Unusual Speed Shown Today In Stock Exchange Transactions

By W. S. COUSINS
International News Service Financial Editor
NEW YORK, June 12.—Public utility stocks and independent stocks were the best ground gainers today in the market, but not any time in the market of exceeding the speed limit, either for volume of sales or price movements of individual stocks. Until after the noon period did stock sales pass the 1,000,000-share mark and until that time the session was the slowest of the week, dipping to the lowest figures since last August.

With most of the big traders out of the market for time being, the "big ten" and their brokers temporarily on the side lines and many of the public traders out of the running for various purposes, the stock market appears to have entered the doldrums a little ahead of the last two years.

Bethlehem was the leader in the advance in the steel stocks, with a 2-point move to 102. Most of the public utility stocks were ready to continue the upward movement which has been in progress a week or two. American Waterworks topped the list with a new 4½-point jump to 130½, which is approximately double 1928 price.

Public Service of New Jersey and Standard Gas broke all past records when the former sold at 95 and the latter at 102. Stocks of the New York City Gas Light and Electric companies were in good demand at a higher range of prices.

City health bureau attaches today stated that during the past 24 hours no new contagion has been reported here.

An old fisherman at the boat dock stated that this was very good for this time of year.

OILCLOTH COMES OUT OF KITCHEN TO DECORATE

The old kitchen oilcloth, newly designed in gay colors and delightful patterns, is now being seen in every room in the house, where it is used in a variety of unexpected ways. In the sunroom, on the terrace and in the garden, large patterns are used to upholster reed and wicker furniture because of the weather-proof qualities of the fabric. Pictured is a corner in the home of a well-known New York artist-decorator, where the testable, drawn up to the cactus-adorned ledge to afford a view, is covered with plaided oilcloth in delicate rose, mauve and sea-green tones. HEMLINES EXPRESS ROMANCE

The hemline of a dress expresses the romance of its age. It combines the dignity of yesterday with the freedom of today, declares Frances Clyde, New York dress designer. Two of Miss Clyde's models are pictured, an afternoon frock, left, of capeline flat crepe with circular flare and uneven front pleating. The evening model combines black chiffon and tulle with a modified version of the swathed hipline and softly trailing hem. An effective touch is offered in the shoulder strap and ornament of brilliants with its tulle flower.

Here Are Changes In New Motor Code

Motor Club Manager B. N. Hanlon, Shows Main Changes In State Code

For the convenience of motorists of New Castle and Lawrence counties, B. N. Hanlon, manager of the New Castle Motor Club has compiled the following summary of changes which are found in the new state motor code.

If one were to look through the old code and attempt to locate the changes, he would find himself at a near loss.

These changes have been ferreted out by Mr. Hanlon and are herewith presented in two installments.

There are two major classes, namely:

1. The substitution of the Department of Revenue for the Department of Highways as the agency for the administration of the law.

2. The placing of the penalty provision under each particular section of the law to which it applies, making it a simple and easy matter for those having reference to the law to ascertain the exact penalty for each violation.

The code comprises 14 articles, each dealing with a separate subject.

Under article 1 of the new act certain definitions have been added for the purpose of clarification and ease in enforcement. One of the most interesting is the definition of "Obscured Registration Plate", which has, in the past, caused considerable discussion, especially when motorists have been brought before local justices of the peace on the charge that registration plates were not visible or legible. The new definition reads as follows:

"Every registration plate, the characters of which are not legible in daylight at a distance of fifty (50) feet from the front or rear of the motor vehicle, on the line of the axis of the vehicle, on an approximately level stretch of highway."

Certain definitions with respect to brakes have been added because of the contemplated enforcement on the equipment of motor vehicles and for the clearer interpretation of article X and enforcement of its provisions. Definitions of "Signs", "Traffic Signals", "Cross Walks", "Pedestrian", etc., have been included.

Article II, as heretofore, deals with the titling of motor vehicles. One important new provision is that requiring any person who sells a motor vehicle as junk or scrap to make application for a Certificate of Junk, which certificate will be issued to the junk dealer and authorize him to possess, transport or by endorsement transfer ownership in such junked motor vehicle. This has the effect of killing identity of so-called "junks", or motor vehicles unfit for further use, and when the Certificate of Junk is issued the title records will be cancelled and no certificate of title will again be issued for the particular automobile in question.

Article III dealing with defaced engine and manufacturer's numbers, remains practically the same as the present law, with the exception of slight clarifications to assist in handling bureau route.

Article II is an "Anti-Theft Measure" declaring it illegal to possess or operation of motor vehicle having defaced numbers thereon.

Article IV dealing with registration and registration procedure in the bureau, has not been changed in any essential details.

Article V deals with the issue and use of registration plates, and in order to avoid confusion usually resulting at the beginning of the new year as account of delinquent application, a new provision has been inserted providing that no motor vehicle shall be operated after December 31st with registration plates for the previous year, nor without registration plates on claim by the owner that registration plates for the current year have been applied for but not received.

Some local authorities have been in the habit of making arbitrary extensions of time for the use of previous year's registration plates, actually in violation of the law and the rules of the bureau, but this provision will definitely settle wheeled vehicles having a maximum gross weight not in excess of thirty-six thousand (36,000) pounds.

The largest article in the code is that dealing with "Traffic"—article X, and numerous important changes have been made in this article in an effort to arrive at a uniform traffic code which will be applicable throughout the entire state. The article is originally designed under the present code was based on the recommendations of the Hoover national conference on street and highway safety, and the uniform provisions have not been changed, but insofar as possible the additional provisions recommended to municipal authorities by the same conference in the model municipal ordinance have been incorporated.

This does not mean that the powers of the local authorities have been restricted beyond those restrictions in the present law, but it will have the effect of making uniform traffic regulations throughout the state.

The most important change from the viewpoint of the motorist is the raising of the thirty-five (35) mile-an-hour speed limit to forty (40) miles an hour. The usual restrictions with respect to twenty (20) miles speeds in business or residence districts, and reduced speeds, under certain other conditions, are retained, as are the restrictions on the speed of commercial motor vehicles and truck tractors. Buses with solid rubber tires are restricted to thirty (30) miles an hour and buses with pneumatic tires are restricted to thirty-five (35) miles per hour.

The establishment of through traffic highways has led to complications in the present right-of-way rule, and while under ordinary conditions the vehicle approaching from the right still has the right-of-way, when such a vehicle attempts to enter a through traffic highway it must give way to traffic on the through highway regardless of any prior right-of-way existing. In other words, traffic on through highways has the right-of-way under all conditions. This right-of-way does not relieve the driver of any vehicle being operated on a through highway from the duty to drive with due regard for the safety of vehicles entering such through highway, nor does it protect the driver of any vehicle through highway from the consequences of an arbitrary exercise of such right-of-way.

Traffic signal interpretations have been clarified but not changed in any important particular.

It is hoped that the menace to safety created by solicitors for tickets and other merchandise, stationed along the highways, will be eliminated by new provisions which make this unlawful and provide a penalty. Article XI is one of the major changes, and deals with "Highways and Power to Regulate Use", but actually is largely a codification of existing provisions heretofore scattered throughout the act which have been brought in under one heading.

One of the important provisions of this new article is one dealing with the erection of traffic signals either by the secretary of highways or by local authorities, depending on the jurisdiction. This provision regulates the positioning of such signals with the thought of obtaining uniformity and eliminating many unwarranted signals.

The authority for establishing through traffic highways has been extended to include boroughs, incorporated towns and townships of the first class in addition to state and city authorities now permitted to establish them. It is further provided that through traffic approaching an intersection, when a traffic signal is in actual operation, or where a peace officer is actually on duty directing traffic, shall operate as directed by the signal or officer.

Marquette

BUILT

BUICK

Body by Fisher

"A GREAT PERFORMER!"

The motoring world has already endorsed the Marquette. "A great performer!" is the comment you hear everywhere when this remarkable new six is mentioned. And no wonder—10 to 60 miles an hour in 31 seconds—over the top of a long 11.6% grade at 25 miles an hour, starting at 5 at the bottom—all in high gear. (The average road grade is 7%). 68 or 70 honest miles in comfort! There isn't a phase of performance where it can't show a clean pair of wheels to every car in its price class.

One word can say most about the Marquette—it's "VALUE." The Marquette with the latest Bodies by Fisher is America's most complete moderate-priced car. It is a thoroughly better automobile for the money. Throughout this great new six—in every feature, from bumper to bumper, from top to tread—there is more quality than seems possible to put into a car at the price. But it is there, because Buick knows how to build an extra margin of out-and-out goodness into all its products.

Drive the Marquette and you're bound to say, with all the others, "A great performer!"

Fort Burrek No. 45, American Home Watchmen, will have an important meeting this evening at 7:30 sharp in their hall in the city building.

Final plans will be made at this time for attending the annual convention of the American Home Watchmen which will be held Friday, June 14, at Titusville, Pa.

Former Local Resident Stricken Enroute Home From Shriners Meeting

W. J. Edmunds of Pittsburgh, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Edmunds of Wallace avenue, this city, was stricken in San Francisco, while on his way home from the Shriners convention held in Los Angeles last week, and had to undergo a serious operation.

He will be remembered as a former resident of this city.

The convalescent was over and Mr. Edmunds with others had left on a tour of the district. On his arrival at San Francisco, he became suddenly ill and on examination it was found that he was suffering from a mastoid condition, which required immediate action.

He was placed in a hospital at once. The operation was performed last Saturday and he came out of it in good shape and his full and complete recovery in the next few weeks is expected.

C. E. Young, Of Pittsburgh, Will Be Speaker At Credit Exchange Dinner

At a meeting of the board of directors of the New Castle Credit Exchange, it was decided to make the coming meeting of June 27 at the Elks club one pertaining to business rather than of a social nature.

This meeting was planned for a social gathering of the entire membership and their wives and friends but due to the speaker planning to make a report of the national credit convention, it was decided to make the session purely of a business nature.

This dinner of the membership will take place June 27 and C. E. Young, credit manager of the Kauffman-Looby company of Pittsburgh will be the speaker.

At this same meeting of the board of directors, the report concerning the kind of service and financial condition of the exchange was made and was most gratifying.

Jackson Defies Ripon; Plans G. O. P. Birthday

Michigan boulevard, Jackson, Mich., and inset, stone marking site of birthplace of G. O. P.

By Central Press
JACKSON, Mich., June 12.—Undaunted by the recent celebration of the seventy-fifth anniversary of the birth of the Republican party at Ripon, Wis., G. O. P. adherents of Jackson county, Michigan, some 100,000 strong, are preparing to stage a birthday celebration "under the oaks in Jackson" on July 6th, during the Jackson centennial, when the city will mark its century of existence with appropriate exercises.

Firm in their belief that the party was conceived in Jackson, the committee has sent out the call to gather on the spot, now marked by a stone, where they declare their fathers gave birth to the Republican party. President Hoover has accepted the honorary chairmanship of the committee. Not to be outdone by Ripon, Wis., Jackson, too is to have a live elephant, symbol of the G. O. P., to march in the parade. School children have contributed their dimes to purchase the pachyderm, which will be lodged in the Jackson zoo after the Centennial.

Gavels made from the wood of the tree under which the Jacksonites vow the party came into being have been presented to President Hoover, Vice President Curtis and Chief Justice William Howard Taft.

In 1910 William Howard Taft, then president of the United States, spoke at the dedication of the memorial tablet which marks the site "under the oaks" which on July 6 will see the second seventy-fifth anniversary of the birth of the Republican party to be celebrated within a month.

MEADVILLE, Pa., June 12.—Ninety-four Allegheny College seniors received their diplomas this morning at the 114th annual commencement exercises, held in Ford Memorial Chapel, Dr. Reinhold Niebuhr, of New York City, delivering the annual address.

Preceded by the academic procession which filed across the campus and into the Chapel, the exercises, which also included the awarding of scholarship prizes and other awards, were given before an auditorium filled to capacity with families and friends of the graduates.

Honorary and doctors' degrees were conferred upon several persons at the exercises, included on the list being S. S. Townsend, Meadville, Master of Arts; Ira O. Fleming, Lock Haven State Teacher's College, Master of Science; Wilson G. Cole, Denver, Col., Charles B. Croxall, Goshen, Indiana, and William L. Wilkenson, Pittsburgh, Editor of the Pittsburgh Christian Advocate, Doctor of Divinity; Frank E. Baker, President of Milwaukee State Teacher's College, Doctor of Humane Letters; John V. Ritts, Butler, Doctor of Business Administration; and Everett P. Phillips, Cornell University, Doctor of Science.

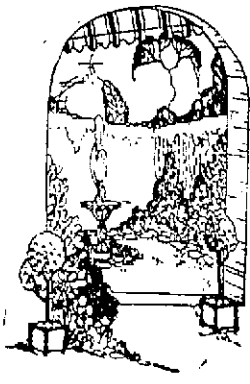

Tom Mix Sued By "101 Ranch" Owners

Suit Is Sequel To Why He Did Not Appear In New Castle With Show

Sequel as to why Tom Mix, motion picture actor, did not appear in New Castle when the "101 Ranch" was here recently, is found in a suit which was filed at Binghamton, N. Y., yesterday in which Mix is sued for breach of contract by Miller Bros., owners of "101 Ranch".

It will be remembered that Mix was supposed to appear with the show but that he failed to appear. Officials of the show stated that it was because of a mixup over a contract. It now appears from the suit filed at Binghamton that Mix is alleged to have signed a contract to appear with the "101 Ranch" last April at a reported salary of $7,500 a week. It is now claimed that he joined another circus at a salary of $15,000 a week and Miller Bros., are asking damages.

As Goeth Diamonds So Goeth Weddings

Remembering that we are in the month of June, the month when so many young maids lose their hearts and an equally great number of young men lose their freedom, let us turn to the question of diamonds and those little gold bands which denote marriage.

So much for that, and just to prove that June is a popular month for the matrimonial sport, take a trip around to a number of New Castle jewelers and ascertain just when they sell their chip diamonds, big diamonds and such betrothal finery.

There are more diamonds sold in May, so seems to be the consensus of a number of jewel dispensers, but this does not denote that May is the marriage month. On the contrary. The rings are purchased then for the June weddings.

The early part of June is also a time for the buying sport. Weddings that take place late in the month usually find the rings bought the first part of the month.

As for the gold bands, June is the month for them, as they are seldom bought much before the sacred and all-binding ceremony takes place, according to the jewelers.

June, too, say the jewelers, is a greater month for weddings than September, its closest rival.

AUTO LICENSES SHOW DECREASE

State Department Reports Drop
In Number Issued During May

From News Bureau State Capital
HARRISBURG, June 12.—Officials in the Bureau of Motor Vehicles are not alarmed because of the drop in the number of passenger cars licensed during May. For the first time in about a year the number of passenger cars licensed showed a drop in May over the corresponding period of the preceding year.

There was a decrease of more than 2700 passenger cars licensed during May. However, the number of such vehicles having licenses on June 1 was over 86,000 more than a year ago. That number of additional cars has resulted in an increase of approximately $335,000 in the revenue from that source.

Father's Day On Sunday, June 16

Nation Will Honor Him In Various Ways On Festival Day

Father's Day will be observed next Sunday, June 16. While father has long been the butt of much humor, satire, cynicism, he is, nevertheless, well entitled to his own distinctive day. In 1914 the Congress of the United States endorsed the observance of one day each year in honor of fathers and set aside the third Sunday in June as the festive day.

1928 were less than five per cent above the 1927 totals. So far, this year the percentage has moved up to 7.8 per cent over the 1928 figures. The fifty cent increase in the cost of issuing learners permits is the only part of the revenue end of the new motor code that becomes effective for this year. The higher bus and truck fees in addition to the $1 increase in drivers licenses will not become effective until the 1930 plates are issued. Those two items will considerably swell next year's totals.

In New Castle special programs appropriate for the day are expected to be presented in gatherings, while around the family circle in the homes throughout the community father will be receiving the plaudits that are custom from his family, his wife and children.

Cangey Hopes To Lay K. O. Punch On Ferro

Local Lightweight Hopes To Do What Herrera Failed To Do

Number Of Interesting Fistic Battles Are Being Carded

By ED FRITZ

Paris Cangey, local lightweight hopes to accomplish what Tony Herrera failed to do when he fights Frankie Ferro, Philadelphia, in their coming bout Monday night at Jolly bowl. Herrera tried to put Ferro away and failed and in the seventh round of their fight, it appeared for a time as though Ferro would batter down Herrera. As Cangey and Ferro are better punchers fans can expect some thrills at the coming fistic embroglio.

Cangey in some ways is a stranger in our midst. While he was born, reared and had his pugilistic introduction here much of his battling has been in out-of-town rings. For a year he has been featuring in New Jersey and New England rings and believes the time appropriate to make a hometown entry with Ferro as an opponent. If he should be fortunate to accomplish what Herrera failed he will be something of an idolatrous figure in local pugilistic life.

Provides the "kick" There has not been one fight here in which Cangey has appeared which lacked thrills. His bout with Frankie Ross was one of the greatest of all local fights. They bobbed up and down like corks and finally Ross, exhausted, was knocked out. However, the fight made Cangey. Later he fought Babe Rivers. At that time the Park kid knew nothing of southpaws and Paves landed one on Cangey's jaw for a kayo.

Rivers went to Cleveland and sent a challenge to New Castle but he used the name of "Thompson". Considerable money was sent here but a friend tipped off Cangey that the "Thompson" was none other than Rivers. In order to play southpaw vs. southpaw, Cangey was taught how to fight right foot forward and when he met "Thompson" the day of the fight he remarked:

"I'm going to break your jaw to-night, Mr. Rivers."

"Crossed Up" Rivers When the fight started Cangey went out left foot and hand extended. On a sign of trouble, he was shifted southpaw, let a left fly that hit Rivers on the chin. Before he struck the floor Cangey had nailed him on the chin with a right and a second left hook. When Rivers was removed from the ring his jaw had a double fracture. Since then he has fought only once.

Ferro's jaw is of iron, steel, concrete, or what you care to call it. No ordinary "paw" has the flesh lining that Ferro has around his jawbone and for this reason the heavy layer acts as a shock absorber. "I've met boys as tough as Ferro and 'dumpe'd' them. I may 'dumpe' Ferro—who can tell?" asked Cangey last night after finishing a hard training bout at Jimmie Dime's gymnasium.

Fritz Otto vs. Clemens There'll be few German-Americans outside the bowl when the sauer kraut kid, Fritz Otto tackles the blooming Weismann in a six round semi-final. Ever since Otto left the Rhineland he has been warbling of his prowess back in Germany and Monday evening will be his opportunity to show just what he can do. Clemens is no gentle playmate, neither is he a champion, so it looks like two big 100 pound swingers meeting in the hurricane of punch.

The last time Clemens appeared here he laid a hairy paw on the jaw of Eddie Gibbons and the Duquesne battler folded like a tent and when into dreams. The rap kept Mr. Gibbons from several future engagements. Yesterday we told Leo that the German is a hard puncher, eager to advance and courageous. "Don't worry me with tales like that," remarked Leo. "I'll take him over in a couple of rounds."

Assyrian To Battle George Rohanna, an Assyrian from Philadelphia who knows all of the Ben Habibs and Habib Bens in the Assyrian colonies of various cities will make another debut, his third with Bobby Green of Akron, recognized as not only a tough nut but a comical genius of the ring. He creates laughs but does so in order to put his adversary at a disadvantage. The Akron fighter believes Rohanna is "just one more welterweight in his life" and has been mean enough to say so, something which has the Assyrian's warm blood running hotter than usual.

Jennings Is Confident Another nationality will crop forth when Joe Miway, the blonde Pole from White Haven, Pa., tackles K. O. Huske of Akron. According to Suey

Welsh, who manages Gorilla Jones, Huske is everything his name implies. Miway got Cliff Becker in his last night and showed a viciousness that some did not credit him with having. This was his second semi-final for other rings in western Pennsylvania. The first hurricane of the night will be furnished by Johnny Jennings of the South Side and Jackie King of Wampum. Johnny trained with Jimmie Dunn's fighters yesterday. He boxed with Leo Clemens, George Rohanna and Eddie Conrad. King has been training at Wampum. Why does King want to fight Frankie Moran instead of me?" asked Jennings who added cynic: "There must be a reason." In other words Jennings intimated that King didn't like his name any too well.

Cen. Presbyterians Lose To Croton 10-2

The Croton team smothered the Central Presbyterians, under a 10 to 2 defeat, in a postponed Church League game, played at the Croton field on Tuesday night. Blaine on the mound for the Crotonites held the Presbyterians to five hits, and fanned six men. The Croton team hit Meider and Granis hard. Blaine, McClelland and Johns hit the best for the winners. Hoskins led the Presbyterians at bat.

Pirates Win From Dodgers

Bancroft's Wild Heave In Ninth Gives Pirates 3-2 Game

PITTSBURGH, June 12.—Dave Bancroft broke up a ball game at Forbes field yesterday but the break did not go as Dave planned for when he slipped up on a fielding chance in the ninth inning he tossed the game to the Pirates and the Dodgers lost three to two.

Ervin Brame and Gliss Dudley opposed each other on mound and the young Dodger hurler held the Pirates to five scattered hits while his teammates scattered off the Kew-Forest. Brame had one bad inning, the sixth when the Dodgers collected three swats.

The rally by the Pirates in the ninth put them over as it was in this frame that Bancroft slipped up. The score two to one. Lloyd Waner got a free trip and Paul socked the ball across the right side of the infield.

Moore tried to intercept the drive, but it skipped away and bounded into right field and Lloyd Waner got to third. While Traynor was forcing Paul to second, Lloyd scooted home. Grauchman was patient and coaxed a free trip to first.

The Dodgers were in a hole and they held consultations. Dazzy Vance gazed toward the box but he wasn't paged. Comorosky forced Grantham. Moore to Bancroft and P. Waner scored. There was a chance for a double but Bancroft's throw to first was wild. Traynor scored and Comorosky was safe. This gave the Pirates a one run margin.

(International News Service) WILKES-BARRE, June 12.—Bushy Graham, of Utica, N. Y., is still recognized by the Pennsylvania Boxing Commission as bantamweight champion as the result of his victory over Archie Bell of Brooklyn in a ten-round bout here last night. The margin of victory was close. The judges voted for a draw and the two judges for Graham. Graham scored a knockdown in the first round and another in the third. Bell taking a count of nine on each occasion.

Italians Again Drop To Slovaks

The Slovak A. C. for the second time in two weeks hung a defeat on the Italian A. A. team in a Lawrence County League game, played at the Clifton Plaza field. The Slovaks now have undisputed possession of second place in the circuit standing. The game was well played and was won by the Slovaks in the first inning when they scored five runs after the Italians had started off with four markers. Turco and Shiek limited the Slovaks to five hits, but were given no support. A Mahalic was found for ten hits, but kept them scattered. "Bub" Jones and Mike Mash were the feature hitters.

The Italian A. A. will play Bessemer at the Centennial grounds on Saturday afternoon. The game will start at 3 o'clock. The umpires chosen by Commissioner Glitch are Gilliam and Glazza.

Gilliam and Glazza are new umpires only recently added to the roster by Commissioner "Pick" Glitch. Both are capable men and hold high esteem.

On Thursday night there is but one game carded. The Bessemer team will travel to Hillsville to tangle with the Hillsville crew. Hillsville will seek revenge for that defeat suffered last night. Noite and McCann have been assigned as umpires.

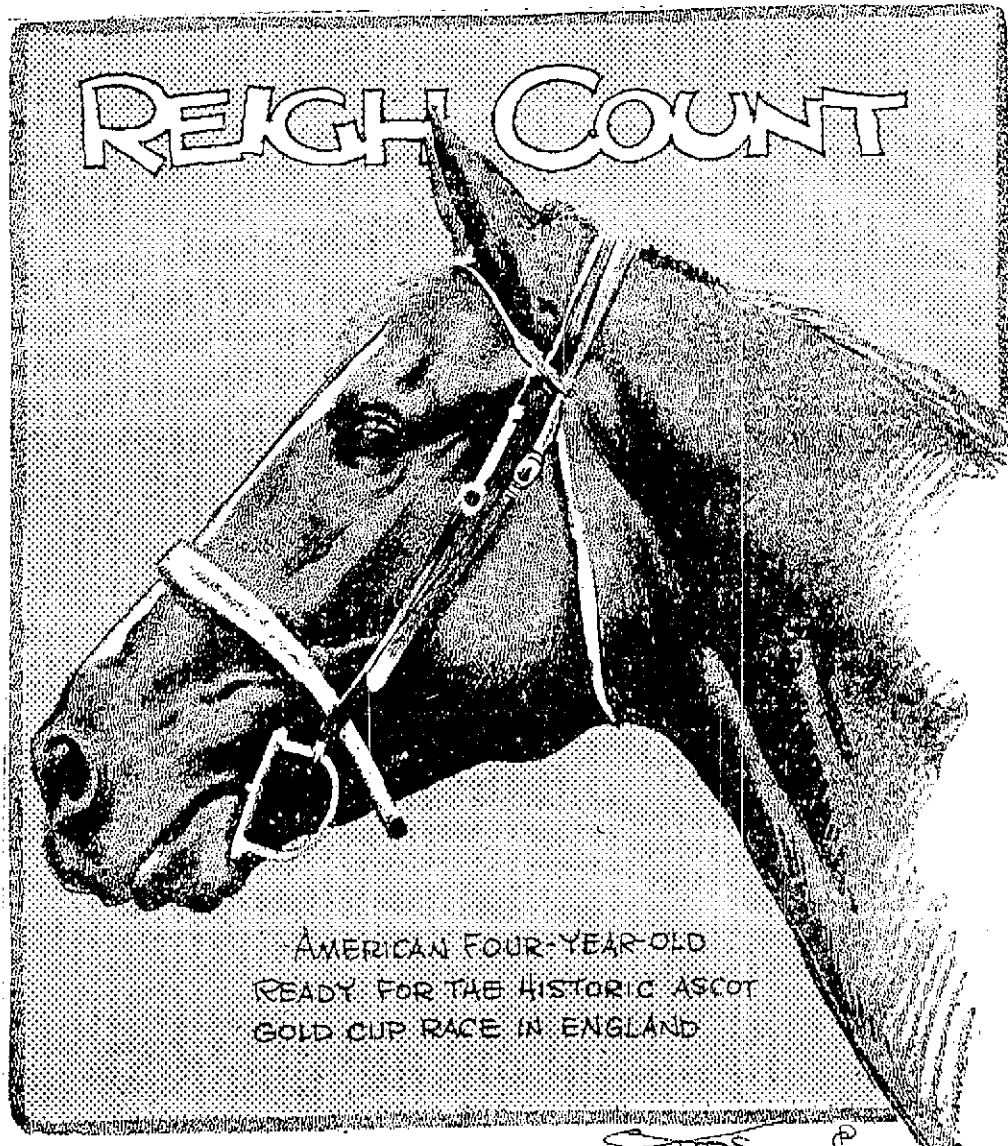

Two Girl Swimming Stars Are Barred

(International News Service) NEW YORK, June 12.—Helen Meany, National and Olympic diving champion, and Martha Norelius, Olympic free-style swimming titleholder and universally acknowledged to be the best woman swimmer in the world, were notified by the A. A. U. today that they have been suspended from amateur swimming activities because they had appeared in unsanctioned meets last winter at Miami, Florida, together with professional performers.

The announcement by the registration committee of the Metropolitan Association of the A. A. U. stated that "Miss Martha Norelius had been found guilty of appearing in unsanctioned swimming exhibitions with professionals and the indefinite suspension meted out to her February 11, 1929 was continued. She was also judged ineligible to represent a Metropolitan district club. The committee has refused to change its ruling of February 11 declaring Miss Helen Meany ineligible for future competition in amateur ranks."

Because of the crushing defeats that Reigh Count the American four-year-old suffered on English tracks in his first starts abroad, many Americans were led to believe that our thoroughbreds were below par as compared with England's stock. Mushball League

The New Castle Firemen socked The New Castle News mushball team for a row at Colonial field on Tuesday evening. The final score was 29 to 0. The game was a noisecan of errors on the part of the Printers. The Firemen played right smart baseball to take the verdict. There was one inning the second when the Firemen didn't tally.

The News lost through the inability to solve the tricky delivery of "Slim" Clark the heater for the Fire Fighters. The Firemen hit Walther hard in every inning.

Tonight the Postoffice team tangles with the Phalanx team of the Y. M. C. A. in a league game at Colonial field.

Harold "Had" Haid, New Castle's only big league representative, hurled another fine game for the St. Louis Cards yesterday when he downed the hard hitting Philadelphia sluggers to eight hits and permitted but three runs which is no mean accomplishment as the Phils are one of the hardest hitting teams in the National League.

Haid has been pitching fine ball for St. Louis since given a change as a regular having lost but one game. He has won about four contests.

Country papers probably won't be suspected until the power trust goes into the scissors business.

Still A Great Backstop

By QUIN HALL
The boys who last fall were predicting that Bob O'Farrell's career as a big league catcher was over received quite a jolt this spring when he showed up at the training camp of the New York Giants looking an extra gripful of pepper.
Everybody at the camp seemed to sense the change. Mgr. McGraw started sticking Bob in back of the platter in exhibition games and continued to use him in a lot of regular tilts with the opening of the season. Bob's glaring weakness last season was hitting. With a catcher like Shanty Hogan, who could pelt the pellet at a 333 clip, it was natural that McGraw would use the man mountain in preference to O'Farrell, who finished the season with a .200 mark. But this year O'Farrell has been doing much better with the mail. It may be that he will return again to his 1925 form, when he was with the St. Louis Cardinals and was voted the most valuable player in the National League.
Undoubtedly, O'Farrell is a shrewd ball player. He must have something else McGraw would have set him adrift. The Giants manager has never been accused of being backward about giving the boys the game when they have nothing left to offer. McGraw could have speared plenty of 200 catchers. It is likely O'Farrell's smartness saved him his berth and it may put him back again on a high pedestal.
Bob knows the weaknesses of the hitters in the National League. In this respect he is an asset to the McGrawian hurlers. It was O'Farrell who was toiling back of the rubber when Tex Hubbell twirled his no-hit game against the Pittsburgh Pirates earlier this year. Hubbell got most of the credit and probably deserved it, but O'Farrell's knowledge may have been partly responsible for holding such fellows as the Waner boys and Pie Traynor hitless during the nine frames.
O'Farrell's early form may have been a flash in the pan. However, many fans hope that Bob will come back with a vengeance and make this season the best of his career.
